BANKER LANDS STOLEN BONDS AND CURRENCY

Ohio Financier Matches Wits With Band of Crooks and Buys $153,000 In Securities and Cash By Delicate Bit of Negotiating.

$80,000 OF DENVER MONEY IS OBTAINED

"Syndicate" Had Upwards of Million In Plunder Taken In Numerous Sensational Robberies and Arrests Are Expected Soon.

(Associated Press.)

CINCINNATI, Feb. 17.—Recovery of $73,000 worth of bonds, part of $265,000 stolen in a holdup by bandits from the Hamilton County bank, on Walnut Hills, this city, last September, and $80,000 in unused federal reserve bank currency stolen in the holdup of the Denver mint was revealed today by federal officers and pinate detectives.

This recovery was the result of the matching of wits by E. H. Matthews who was president of the Hamilton County bank, with a band of crooks, who were trying to dispose of stolen securities of many kinds, the total face value of which is believed to be about a million dollars.

Was Delicate Bit of Work.

The story of how the securities were recovered is one of long and delicate negotiations with an agent of the band of crooks in which suspicion had to be avoided and utmost secrecy observed. The final negotiations for the stolen bonds were consummated in Minneapolis.

The $73,000 recovered by Mr. Matthews was at a cost of $28,000. The Hamilton County bank was sold recently to the Union Savings Bank and Trust company.

It was said today that arrests of several members of the "syndicate" that has been trying to sell securities that were the plunder of half a dozen sensational robberies in various parts of the country would be made soon.

The clue which resulted in the revelations regarding the band came through the discovery that an effort was being made to sell in Minneapolis ten $1,000 Philippine government bonds, which were a part of the loot stolen from the Hamilton County bank, but which purposely was not included in the published list of stolen bonds.

Goes to Minneapolis.

Mr. Matthews went to Minneapolis, conferred with postoffice inspectors and private detectives and a plan to negotiate for the stolen bonds was arranged. A man, designated only as "Mr. X," was introduced to the agent of the robbers as a North Dakota banker who desired to make large purchases of stolen securities to cover his shortage in his bank. After careful negotiations, "Mr. X" paid $5,000 to the robbers' agent and ten Philippine bonds were delivered to him. Then negotiations for other securities began. A second deal resulted in purchase of other bonds.

A third "deal" with the robbers agent resulted in the recovery of $80,000 unused money that was stolen from the Denver mint, but "Mr. X" had to pay $48,000 for it. During the several conferences, it was discovered that the band of thieves had $973,000 of stolen bonds and other securities which they wanted to dispose of. But negotiations suddenly ceased, something having happened which caused the band of robbers to become suspicious.

Chicago Man Gaining Strength and Will Recover Though Still Unconscious.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 17. — Joseph J. Wright, said by physicians to have been asleep for forty-eigh days, was reported to be gaining strength and recovering, although still unconscious, Dr. A. J. Parker, who diagnosed the disease as toxic meningitis, and who has fed him by means of a mouth tube, said he expected Wright to come out of his sleep within ten days.

FIND IOWA NURSE DEAD IN AN AUTO

Supposed to Have Been Frozen But Investigation In Progress.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 17.—Investigation into the death of Miss Kathryn Lukashavac, head nurse at a Shenandoah, Ia., hospital, whose body was found in an automobile near that town Friday morning practically was at a standstill Saturday pending word from Iowa City laboratories where contents of her stomach were sent for analysis according to a special dispatch received from Shenandoah by the Omaha World-Herald.

While officials would make no announcement, it was indicated that their first theory that she had been frozen to death, was now being discounted. She had been ill with influenza just prior to Thursday night when she went for an automobile ride with Charles McMahon who was arrested pending a coroner's inquest, scheduled for next Tuesday. McMahon is being held in jail in Clarinda.

Relatives of Miss Lukashavac this afternoon will take the body to Effingham, Kas., for burial.

Family of Three Dead From Fumes

A coroner's inquiry was begun at once.

ARREST IS MADE IN CLARKS FIRE

Report to Hartford Indicates Lumber Yard Fired for Revenge.

Inspector Says One Man Has Confessed and Others Implicated.

Examination into the W. J. Henderson Lumber yard fire at Clarks, Neb., on February 8, has established the fact that it was of incendiary origin and Burl Rolse is under arrest at Central City. Theodore Simmons is being held and others are under investigation, State Fire Marshal Hartford announced Saturday. L. J. Butcher of the Lincoln office, has informed Mr. Hartford that one of the two men has confessed, and that other arrests are expected to be made soon by local officers.

The community is greatly stirred up over the case, according to word reaching Lincoln, and it is generally considered that Henderson's open stand for law enforcement and fight on a 'booze ring" was the underlying cause of the alleged crime.

While many petty thefts have been reported lately in Clarks, citizens say, there was no attempt to rob the lumber yard. Paper was piled in the office and the floor saturated with gasoline before the match was applied. A night watchman happened to see the blaze and turned in an alarm, so that no considerable damage was done. It is said that blood hounds were used by officers in tracing the two men now in custody.

Reily's Resignation as Island Governor In Hands of Harding

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Harding had before him today the resignation of E. Mont Reily, as governor of Porto Rico, an office in which he was inaugurated in July, 1921. The resignation, cabled from San Juan and assigning ill health as the reason, was received at the white house last evening and was made public without comment.

Among those mentioned as possible selections for the post in succession to Governor Reily, have been Major General Clarence R. Edwards, retired, and Representatives Towner of Iowa and Campbell of Kansas.

Vivid Story of Fight Against Waves to Save Thirty Shipmates

Almost Exhausted, Sailor Secures Life Line After Battling Fury of Ocean and Companions On Sinking Vessel Safely Rescued.

(International News Service.)

Victor Hautopp, seaman, swam over half a mile with a line from the ill-fated Santa Rita to the shore at Clo-oose, little Indian settlement on Vancouver island and made possible the rescue of her entire crew of thirty men. Following is his story as related for Internation News Service.

By Victor Hautopp.

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 17.—Well, sir, when a fellow knows everything depends on him he somehow or other bucks up and something simply makes him succeed. I don't know how I ever made shore with he line I guess the Lord was with me.

It was early Wednesday morning—about daybreak The Santa Rita was in bad shape We had been sending up rockets in the blinding snow and blowing our whistle to attract attention but no help came. Captain Rolstead called us about him and pointing to the shore line—about half a mile away—asked:

"Who will volunteer to try and make it with a line?"

I volunteered. I had always been a strong swimmer and something told me. I could make it. I stripped down to my underwear. The boys tied the line about my waist. They patted me on the shoulder. I got on the rail, hesitated a moment and then jumped into the raging sea.

It seemed I was swallowed up for a time. I finally came up. I couldn't see much. We had poured crude oil on the water to keep the sea from breaking and it nearly blinded me. I struck out with all my power. The big seas almost smothered—nearly battered me to pieces. One minute I slashed my way through a big breaker and then would be sucked down. The surf had me. My feet touched the beach but the next instant I was swept under. Finally after what seemed hours, one great breaker rolled me high on the beach. I was bruised—sore all over. My legs hardly held me up.

Gathering every ounce of strength in me, I pulled the line ashore. The rocks were bare and there seemed to be no place to make the line fast. I noticed a deep crevice. With one last effort, I slipped the line through it, signalled the ship to heave it taut, and collapsed.

When I came to some of the boys were around me. They had come ashore in an improvised breeches buoy rigged with a small line tackle and bo'sun's chair. They tried to rig a heavier line but couldn't draw it taut so the men had to be dragged through the sea the way they came. Captain Rolstead was the last man to leave the ship.

Settlers around Clo-oose took us to their cabins and gave us warm clothes and food. They treated us royally.

Justice of Peace Poses as Landis; May Go to Prison

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Fred Beisswanger, justice of the peace of Niles, a suburb of Chicago, today faced a prison sentence or payment of a fine or both for impersonating former Federal Judge K. M. Landis, now commissioner of baseball. Witnesses said that Beisswanger posed as "Judge Landis" in a private "federal building," and fined a foreigner for alleged violation of prohibition

LONG FIGHT ON GAS AT AN END

With Order Authorizing $5,000 Compensation to Special Master Wilson, Bitter Struggle Over Rates Practically Concluded.

VOLUMINOUS RECORDS MARK THE LITIGATION

Case Covers Span of Sixteen Years and Estimated Company Spent $100,000 In Fight—But One Possible Appeal Remains.

A compensation of $5,000 has been allowed Ralph P. Wilson as special master in the case of the Lincoln Gas company against the city by Judge Martin Wade, according to an order filed with the clerk of the federal court Saturday morning. Of this amount $1,250 is assessed against the city for Mr. Wilson's work in the case, which the city lost, involving the interest claims of those who had accepted their rebates without interest, and $3,750 against the Lincoln Gas company for the services of the master in the larger case involving all the rebates, which the city won.

Both company and city have already paid the master $750 at different times and the order requires the payment now of the balance, $500 from the city and $2,000 from the company. Costs are not mentioned in this order but it is understood they will likewise be divided between the litigants at a later date and in another order.

The records which the master has, and which are voluminous are to be filed with the deputy clerk of the federal district court and the work sheets with the company figures, used in figuring rebates, are to be returned to the company.

To Bind Filings.

A special stipulation will be necessary to allow the clerk to bind the filings to use as a record because they are so large that it is estimated it would take a stenographer several years to copy them at a cost of five or six thousand dollars. The binding and filing will preserve the originals as the record at a much lower cost

The end of sixteen years of litigation in the federal courts between the city and Gas company, is in sight. J. H. McClay, deputy clerk of the federal court, finds that the first filings in the case were made on December 27, 1906. That was two months before he entered upon his duties as clerk and since that time he has spent many hours copying filing titles into the big book. The one case has filled up all odd half pages and blank sheets and beginning on page ten is found scattered through more than a hundred pages of filing notes only.

Huge Clerk's Fees.

The clerk's fees ten cents a paper and the usual filing fees, which are small in each instance, in this one case have amounted to $1,910.30. Colonel McClay estimates that with attorney fees and costs, the company spent considerably more than $100,000 on the case during the sixteen years. The records are the most voluminous of any case ever before this federal district court.

The city still has the right to appeal from the one phase of the findings of the special master, upheld by the district court, that those accepting rebates without interest can not now claim interest, but aside from that item the case is completed. The city must indicate its intention to appeal before May 1, when the present term of court ends.

City officials indicated that there would be no protest against the order assessing a part of the cost of the special master to the city unless the legal department decides to appeal the part of the case decided against the city. The costs paid by the city have been comparatively small while the return to the gas consumers is estimated well into the six figure column.

Boy, 14, Is Held Here for Chicago Juvenile Officers

Fred Fratto, 14, is being held at the Lancaster county detention home at the request of juvenile officials in Chicago. A letter from Chicago officials to Omaha juvenile authorities has been forwarded to Mrs. Franc R. Hawley, chief juvenile officer of this county, and was received by her Saturday morning. The letter states that the boy was in company with an ex-soldier, who was traveling across the country, giving exhibition with trained rats and guinea pigs and a monkey.

A young man giving the name of Frank McClousky, 23, of Pittsburg, answering this description arrived in Lincoln Thursday. He said his young "brother" had been traveling with him but that he sent him back home from Omaha. The lad was found in Lincoln by police and turned over to the juvenile authorities here.

First Meeting of "Farm Bloc" in Legislature

There is now a regularly organized "farm bloc" in the legislature, with twenty-three charter members and prospects of increasing the number to nearly twice as many. The first meeting of the "bloc" was held Friday evening at the Grand hotel. Those present were all house members, but it is planned to cooperate with senators who are interested in agricultural matters.

I. W. Jacoby of Lancaster county was elected chairman and Ernest Peterson of Kearney county secretary. The attendance included republicans and democrats and both of the third party progressives, although neither of them is a farmer. Secretary Peterson said that the "bloc" would welcome to its ranks any members who wish to work with it, regardless of their business or occupation.

Meetings will be held every Monday evening to consider bills in which farmers are especially interested. There was informal discussion Friday evening on mutual insurance bills, the Jacoby excess profits tax, and the bill changing the date of the state primary back to the third Tuesday in August, instead of the same day in July. A bill on compulsory testing for bovine tuberculosis, but without the state subsidy payment, was also talked over.

BELIEVE WOMEN IN DEATH PLOT

Los Angeles Police Turn Attention to Stories of Two Mysterious Women Alleged to Have Been Near Remington Home Thursday.

WATCHES FROM COUPE IN FRONT RESIDENCE

Stories of Gay Parties and "Domestic Troubles" Creep Into Probe of Midnight Murder—Said Wife Had Talked of Divorce Action.

(Associated Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—A stiletto wound in the heart determined as the cause of death and police search for a woman in connection with the slaying were the developments disclosed today in the probe into the death Thursday night of Earle Remington, electrical engineer. His body was found yesterday morning in the driveway of his residence in a fashionable home district here.

The officers said they had been told that a woman, alone in a coupe, was seen watching the Remington residence, about 8 o'clock Thursday night and that about 11:30 two men and two women were seen "lurking in the shadows nearby" and that the latter party apparently traveled in an automobile which at that time was parked, with lights out, across the street.

Was Society Girl.

Mrs. Remington who before her marriage in 1916 was Miss Virginia Lola Stone, socially prominent, has been hysterical much of the time since she learned of her husband's death and has been unable to give the police a statement, but relatives said she was awakened about the time as that fixed for the slaying, but could not state by what.

Two attorneys told the officers Mrs. Remington recently discussed "domestic troubles," with them with a view to effecting a property settlement but had taken no definite steps toward filing a suit for divorce. One said she had spoken of "gay parties," her clubman husband had attended, and told of employing detectives to shadow him and that he had accused her of having him watched.

If the theory that a woman was involved meets with refutation, the police said they would turn to "business and try to learn whether professional jealousy might have inspired the tragedy." So far they added, they had learned nothing to indicate anybody held a grudge against the engineer.

Remington was born in Philadelphia and was 38 years old.

Zululand "Cannibals" No More Warlike Than Nebraskans

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—There are no flappers in Zululand, Prince Bullawa Cetawayo, chief of a Zulu tribe, declared here. He found moral laxness here. One thing he said that always caused surprise was the knowledge that in Zulu the people are civilized and eat canned food.

"People are always surprised when I tell them that my country is almost as thoroughly civilized as, say, Nebraska," he said. "Most Zulus go to church on Sunday, eat canned foods and use the telephone.

JUDGE TO MAKE FINAL DECISION

House Reports Out Measure Forbidding Board of Pardons to Modify Prison Sentences Without Consent of Trial Judge.

DISPOSITION TO STIFFEN PENALTIES

Lawmakers Are Apparently Aroused Over Past Clemency to Penitentiary Inmates and Plan Stringent Remedial Legislation.

While the Nebraska house has killed the bill to repeal the indeterminate sentence law, there is a strong sentiment in both branches of the legislature favorable to increasing restrictions upon the exercise of clemency to convicted criminals, as well as stiffening the penalties for offenses of the more serious kind.

Several of Ralph P. Wilson's bills along this line have been advanced to third reading in the house, and Saturday forenoon another measure, sponsored by Mr. Elasser, was reported out by the judiciary committee forbidding the state pardon board to grant any parole, commutation or pardon unless the trial judge recommends such action "in the interest of humanity and justice."

Last Word With Judge.

This practically gives district judges the power of veto over the release of prisoners sentenced by them. Under the present law, the pardon board must publish applications in the counties where prisoners were sentenced, and the district judge as well as the prosecuting attorney, or any other person may protest; but the board can nevertheless go ahead and parole, pardon or commute regardless.

In one instance two years ago a negro rapist from Douglas county was put on the parole list by the governor's order, which action evoked the severe condemnation of Judge W. G. Sears, who had pronounced sentence upon the man. This had the effect of stopping the prisoner's release but in other cases clemency has been exercised contrary to the trial magistrate's recommendations, or without hearing from him.

The Elsasser bill is H. R. 418, and indications are that it will be passed by the house. Another of the bills is Ralph Wilson's series, H. R. 405, doubling the present penalties for debauchment of minors, was reported for the general file Saturday by the judiciary committee.

CLAIM PLIGHT OF FARMERS NOT BAD

In defending present grain rates against the demand of eight middle west states for a reduction, the railroads attempted to show that the farmers of this section are not nearly so bad off as is generally supposed. Thorne A. Browne, of the Nebraska railway commission, said Saturday. He had jus returned from attending a hearing before a federal examiner at Kansas City, for lower interstate rates on grain.

L. E. Wettling, formerly of Lincoln, and now manager of the statistics bureau of western railroads, presented the argument that the roads earned a net profit of less than 4 per cent in 1922, and denied that the hauling of grain is a good paying proposition for the carriers.

He also claimed, by comparison of government census and statistics, that the eight states interested, while having only 17 per cent of the farms in the United States, have 32 per cent of the farmer owned automobiles. For states as a whole, he said, Iowa has 181 cars per 1,000 population, Nebraska 154 plus, and Missouri ranks last of the grain states with 101 per 1,000 people.

The hearing at Kansas City will be continued next week, when J. A. Little will return to represent the Nebraska commission.

King "Tut's" Tomb Re-Sealed to Be Opened Again Sunday

Investigators Are Thrilled By Rich Store of Treasure Revealed By First Brief Visit Into Mortuary Chamber of Ancient Egyptian.

(International News Service.)

LUXOR Egypt, Feb. 17.—The inner chamber of the 3,000-year-old tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, in the Valley of Kings, with its sarcophagus and Egyptian relics of dazzling splendor, was re-sealed today, following the informal opening yesterday, but will be opened again tomorrow.

Egyptologists are thrilled by the rich store of ancient treasures revealed by portable electric lights when the wall was pierced and the fresh air passed into a chamber that was sealed by priests more than 1,000 years before the birth of Christ.

There are imposing statues and statettes, guarding the sarcophagus and entrance. Innumerable boxes with sealed covers and kingly cartouches were scattered about. There was one great ebony statue, representing a leopard, or perhaps the sacred cat of ancient Egypt. Rich vases, still fresh in color, stood by the tomb. The sahcophagus which is believed to contain the mummified body of the king, will remain in the tomb until official negotiations are concluded as to its final disposition. The Egyptian government desires that it remain in this country.

Some of those who were permitted to enter the inner chamber believe that the king's mummy is in a second inner coffin, wrapped in sheets of gold outside the perfumed linen covering the body. In view of the fact that Tut-Ankh-Amen died very young and allowing for the natural shrinkage that followed the Egyptian custom of embalming, it is the opinion of Egyptologists that the body would be found to be almost as small as that of a child

Queen Elizabeth of Belgium will be among those entering the inner chamber tomorrow.

SCORES RECORD OF LEGISLATURE

Platte Solon Does Not Look For Any Constructive Legislation.

"Nothing of any great consequence has been accomplished by the legislators of the 1923 session," said Senator Charles J. Thielen, of Platte county, at a meeting of the Democratic luncheon club, Saturday noon at the Grand hotel. Representative Richard Regan, also of Platte county declared that the present legislature is the worst that Nebraska has ever known and nothing of any importance has been done and probably will not be done.

Representative Regan declared that there are committees continually at work in the state house attempting to block the work of he governor. Mr. Regan asserted that the present situation proves that the people do not know what they want. To accomplish anything with the present legislature, Mr. Regan declared, that Charles Randall should have been elected governor or else the members of both houses of the legislature should have been democrats in order to work in harmony with Governor Bryan.

Senator Thielen spoke on better laws and declared that the making of good laws merely requires good common sense and when it is used that bad laws will rapidly decrease.

W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury who was one of the possible presidential candidates chosen by the club for the 1924 presidential election was chosen as final candidate by the club as the best chance to win in 1923. W. J. Bryan was also nominated and backed by several members of the club.

Crew of Tuscan Prince Make Safe Landing On Island

VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 17—No lives were lost when the British steamship Tuscan Prince crashed ashore on Village Island, at the entrance to Barclay Sound, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, at 1 o'clock on Wednesday morning, during a blinding snow storm. Although a heavy sea was running and the ship pounding heavily, all hands, numbering forty-three officers and men, were able to make the rock island. They endured untold hardships while awaiting succor. Fourteen of them were taken off last night by the Banfield lifeboat but the remainder spent the night on the island, a southwest gale and driving rain making their domicile a most unpleasant one.

BOMBING MARKS VIOLENT NIGHT IN RUHR CITY

Hurling of Explosives and Serious Cases of Sabotage Occur at Essen When The Kaiserhof Hotel Is Attacked By Germans After Dark.

SINK TWO LOADED BARGES IN CANAL

Additional Difficulty Experienced By French In Moving Supplies When Boats Sent Down In Channel Blocking One of Main Waterways.

(Associated Press.)

DUSSELDORF, Feb. 17—Bomb throwing and serious cases of sabotage occurred in the Ruhr valley during the night. A bomb was thrown in a street in Essen near the Kaiserhof hotel, the French engineers headquarters, where Chief Engineer Coste, and thirty or forty other civil engineers are lodged. No injuries resulted.

The windows of the hotel were broken by the explosion.

This hotel is guarded day and night by French soldiers, but the bomb thrower escaped. It is thought possible the bomb was thrown from the roof of one of the neighboring buildings.

Considerable additional difficulty in effecting transportation is being caused the French by the act of the Germans, recently reported in sinking two loaded barges in the channel of the Rhine-Herne canal, which is one of the main arteries of water communication in the Ruhr. The canal is completely blocked.

Another strike has occurred among the miners of the Krupp pits at Bochum, 16,000 men going out. They struck because the mine officials were arrested by the French for refusing to obey orders and obstructing the work of the French commission.

Pitched Battle in Cafe.

BERLIN, Feb. 17—Advices received from Essen today said that one French soldier was shot dead and two others wounded, one seriously, in the

SECOND TRIAL OF ANTHONY SHORTLY

Retrial of Stock Salesman, Charged With Fraud, Within Three Weeks.

Alleged Have Secured $6,300 Promissory Note Through Misrepresentation—Case Remanded.

County Attorney Charles Matson announced Saturday that Perry Anthony would be tried in district court here within the next three weeks upon the charge of conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses. The supreme court this week granted Anthony a new trial on a charge of defrauding Miss Julia Nahley, of Hickman, in the sale of thirty-six shares of Lincoln Auto & Tractor school stock which were alleged to have been misrepresented and for which a $6,300 promissory note was given. Anthony was convicted on this charge and he appealed to the high tribunal at the capitol.

The charges against Anthony are contained in an indictment, handed down by the Lancaster county district court a year ago. The conspiracy charge also includes the name of Milburn C. Shurtleff. The indictment charge that the defendants on or about July 1, 1919, conspired to obtain $5,000 in government bonds from John Schwitzer, a $2,000 promissory note from John Letzerdink a $2,100 note from Frank DeHarsh, a $4,200 note from Ernest Fowlie, a $5,000 note from John C. Boell, a $2,100 note from William Lorenzen, $5,250 in cash from William Charlten, a $2,100 note and $80 in cash from John Thiedemann, a $4,200 note from David DeBoer, a $2,100 note from Ben TeSelle, and three notes for $6,300 each from Julia, Martha and Frank Nahley. The transactions all involved the sale of shares of stock in the Lincoln Auto & Tractor school.

Raymond Linch was fatally injured while in the employ of the American Paving corporation at Pawnee City. The father is awarded $1.50 for 150 weeks and medical and burial expenses.

Complaint Is Dropped—T. J. Miller, a laundry driver, charged with parking in the street, was listed as a first offender by Police Judge E. B. Chappell Saturday morning and dismissed. Miller had stopped behind a row of cars parked at the curb while he delivered a package. This was held to be in violation of the new traffic ordinance by Judge Chappell and City Attorney Boehmer, but the charges against Miller were dismissed because they felt he had not had sufficient notification.

Mummers Club in Pleasing Show at The High School

The productions given by the dramatic students of the Lincoln high school are always a source of delight to Lincoln people, and "Monsieur Beaucaire," presented Friday evening by the Mummers was no exception, unless it be said that the performance was more pleasing than usual.

The play itself, one of Booth Tarkington's best, is full of charm and gives ample opportunity for good work.

The story involves Monsieur Beaucaire, a rather eccentric but lovable character who falls in love with Lady Mary Carlysle. He plans an introduction to Lady Mary through a clever ruse, and his plan is a success. Lady Mary is interested in spite of herself, and begins to love this impetuous impulsive young Beaucaire.

Then when things are going well for Beaucaire, an unscrupulous enemy exposes him as a barber, and instantly the dashing, handsome Beaucaire is a social outcast. Lady Mary will have nothing more to do with him until she finds that he is not a barber after all, but of a rank more noble than her own, but then it is too late.

Jere Mickel played the title role, that of Beaucairee, and did it with an ease and finish that one seldom sees in an amateur.

The part of Lady Mary was enacted by Sylvia Lewis, who was exceptionally pleasing and lovely in her role. There were many good characters in the play, and the principals were supported by a strong cast, which was as follows:

Servant to Beau Nash—Gordon Hager.
Francois—Jack Rank.
Monsieur Beaucaire—Jere Mickel.
M. Molyneux—Ted Johnson.
Victor—Wilbur Elmelund.
Duke of Winterset—Vernon Conover.
Captain Badger—Ernest Clary.
Lady Malbourne—Betty Milner.
Estelle Malbournee—Lillian Finke.
Marie—Lucile Dunn.
Winton—eLe Rankin.
Harry Rackell—Julius Frandsen.
Bean Nash—Bally Allison.
Lord Townbrake — Sterling Hatfield.
Sir Hugh Guilford—William Newens.
Lady Baring-Gould—Edna Hudson.
Lady Rellerton—Elsie Neely.
Lady Mary Carlysle—Sylvia Lewis
Jean—Roscoe Hildreth.
Berquin—Frederick Van Valin.
Henri de Beaujolais—Harold Hildreth.
Marquis de Mirepoix—Jake Finkelstein.
Sir High Bantison — Marshall Neely.
Lady Clarise—Helen Aach.

The play was coached and directed by Lucille Becker Foster, assisted by Cecilia Foster.

LANGUAGE LAW IS TO STAND

Members of Lower House of Nebraska Legislature, By Vote of 74 to 20, Refuse to Tamper With Reed-Norval Act.

ACTION FOLLOWS A LONG DEBATE

Sustain Report of Committee Killing Strehlow Proposal to Repeal Americanization Measure — Law Has More Supporters Than in 1921.

In thunder tones, the Nebraska house of representatives registered its condemnation of the attempt by foreign language interests to make the Reed-Norval law a bone of contention in the legislature at the same time they are attacking its constitutionality before the supreme court of the United States.

By the crushing majority of 74 to 20—a considerably greater margin than that by which the law was passed two years ago—the chamber voted to sustain the action of its committee on education in killing the Strehlow bill to repeal the Reed-Norval act. This occurred Friday afternoon as the climax of a spirited debate lasting an hour and a half.

Although Mr. Strehlow signified that he was willing to cut out the repeal clause and substitute some amendments to the law, the house rejected his motion to put the bill on general file and thus rebuked his open threat on the floor that if the members didn't rally to its support they would lose the German vote in their respective districts in case they run for office again.

Fourth Legislature to Speak.

Three previous legislatures of Nebraska have dealt in turn with the foreign language question, forced upon their attention by the apparent determination of certain organizations to perpetuate their European traditions, sympathies and speech and rear the younger generation along the same lines. For the fourth time, the state lawmaking assemoly has taken its stand on the same question and has declared, more emphatically than ever, that the children of Nebraska shall be educated in the language of America.

Speaker A. N. Mathers, who presided over the debate with patience and fairness, could not restrain himself from expressing his opinion of the proceedings after the house adjourned. He went to Mr. Strehlow, principal introducer of the bill, and said:

"I think you should be impeached for bringing such a controversy into this chamber."

Both Parties Against Bill.

Both the major political parties share the credit for burying the Strehlow bill in a deep grave. Of the 57 republicans, 50 were recorded against the bill, 1 supported it, and 3 were absent. Of the 40 democrats —Mr. Schneringer having resigned and his seat being vacant—24 voted to kill the bill, 14 to place it on general file, and 2 were absent.

oth of the third party progressives, Messrs. Axtell and Raasch, were numbered among the bill's adherents.

Republicans voting for it were: Dysart, Gallagher, Smith and Strehlow. Three of the four are Douglas county men.

Democrats voting for it were: Broome, G. B. Collins, G. S. Collins, Elsasser, Hefferman, Kautsky Kemper, Moore, O'Gara, O'Malley, Otteman, Quinn, Regan, and Svoboda. Five of these are Douglas county men.

Threatens Loss of German Vote.

An amazingly frank admission as to what was behind the bill came from Mr Strehlow in his closing argument.

"I wonder if you men think you can dodge this matter or help to sidetrack it and then go back to your German constituents and get their votes again," he said. "You've got to go on record, and if you're not right on the question you'll meet the same fate as the republican candidate for governor did."

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Strehlow referred to "that venomous organ, The Lincoln Star," and read extracts from editorials appearing in this newspaper. Commenting on one of them, which mentioned the withdrawal of American troops from Germany as marking the final failure of this country to achieve definite results in the world war, he said:

Strehlow claimed that half a million Germans fought with the union army during the civil war and played a large part in preserving the country from being split in two.

The line of talk put up by Mr. Strehlow and some of his colleagues on the same side led Mr. Gordon of Box Butte county, a rough and ready westerner, to ejaculate:

"I could almost imagine that I was in the German reichstag."

Mr. Keifer, an ex-service man, characterizing as "bunk" some of the arguments put forward by the bill's friends, continued:

"We had a war, and the last contingent of our troops arrived home not two weeks ago. Forget this if you can, but don't forget the lessons we learned from the war."

Keifer asserted that although Strehlow and two others who introduced the repeal bill are members of the American Legion, that organization is heart and soul for the Reed-Norval law and does not want it tampered with. These three men were the only ones in the Legion opposing it, he said.

"I just hear some one back here saying: 'That's a d—d lie,' but it is a fact just the same," Keifer concluded.

"I am going to insist that every member of the house be given the courtesy of treatment due a gentleman," announced Speaker Mathers, "and I shall use all my authority to that end."

Jacob Sees Mullen's Hand.

"I understand that Art Mullen wants this bill before the house so as to strengthen his argument against the language law in the United States supreme court at Washington next Monday," contributed Mr. Jacoby. "Gentlemen, I think we'd better kill it right now."

George B. Collins, one of the bill's introducers, gave it as his opinion that the supreme court wouldn't care whether everybody in Nebraska was opposed to the Reed-Norval law, provided it was constitutional.

Messrs. Elsasser and Broome complained that the educational committee had run over them with a steam roller and refused to grant a second hearing which some of the bill's friends asked for. This drew counter statements from Chairman Miner and Messrs. Smiley, Green, Whitehead, Davis and C. L. Yochum of the committee, all insisting that a fair hearing had been given and the interested persons notified in advance so that if they did not appear it was their own fault.

"I don't believe this legislature has any business putting into a matter that is now before the highest court in the land," said Mr. Yochum. This seemed to be the general sentiment of the house.

Dental Operation Suggested.

Mr. Lamb, speaking against the bill, said if it came out on the floor he was ready to take his stand and help to "put teeth in it," which would make the introducers sorry they had tirred up the old controversy.

"I'd rather have my boy become a good American citizen than an ambassador to any foreign country," he said in reply to the argument that teaching foreign languages in the grade schools would fit pupils for diplomatic service abroad.

"The people are not demanding this bill," he went on. "They are satisfied to have their children taught American principles in the American language, until they reach the high school. I want to say that I have plenty of good people of German ancestry in my district, who are just as good citizens as any, and they are not asking the repeal of the Reed-Norval law."

Mr. Whitehead remarked that several banquets arranged by a few German language agitators had been given to legislators at one of the hotels during the last two weeks, and evidently that was where the inspiration for the bill came from.

O'Gara Roasts England.

Mr. O'Gara, a member of the education committee, said he had orgially been in favor of killing the Strehlow bill, as he did not think the issue should be opened up again at this time; but he believed its friends had not been treated fairly and for that reason he voted with the minority of the committee to report the bill out.

Launching into a tirade against England, Mr. O'Gara said that it had set out to spread the English language over the whole world.

"My father was born in Ireland and when he attended school there, if he spoke a single word in the Gaelic tongue, he was flogged with a cat-o'-nine-tails," he asserted.

Plagiarizing the famous anti-war speech of Senator Norris in congress, O'Gara said:

"America is not going to forget the blood of our young men that was coined into dollars by the rich profiteers who are behind this English language crusade."

Mr. Broome, another dissenting member of the committee, moved to send the bill back to it, but he was the only one to vote for the proposal.

FATHER-SCOUT BANQUET HELD

Annual Boy Scout Dinner at Scottish Rite Temple Friday Evening.

Fathers and sons banqueted Friday evening at the Scottish Rite temple at the Boy Scouts father and son banquet, which was put on under the direction of N. Ray Hall. About one thousand attended. L. L. McDonald, national camp director of the Boy Scouts, and Dr. Charles Fordyce were the principal speakers.

Mr. McDonald in his address told of the advantages to be gained by summer camping by a scout. The value of work for others rather than self, which Mr. McDonald said was one of the principles of scouting, was stressed. Mr McDonald went through the daily program of a scout at camp, for the information of those scouts who had never attended and also to show the fathers the value of camping.

Responsibility of parents to the boy and the dependence the boy should place in his parents were told of by Dr. Fordyce. The boy should depend on his mother up to a certain age, said Dr. Fordyce, but later a father's interest was needed to offer the boy the proper companionship and advice and to set a good example. Clean living was especially urged, not only for its own sake but to help the boy in the business world as well.

Rev. Arthur A. Brooks, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, spoke briefly saying that he was absolutely "sold" on the scout work, and praised the work of the organization in making better boys.

Community singing immediately after the dinner was led by H. O. Ferguson. The scout salute to the flag was led by scout executive William J. Kent. Miss Marie Cronley gave several whistling solos and the university quartet entertained with a group of songs. Dr. Walter Aitken asked grace.

Rail Construction Measure Brought to Life Upper House

In the senate Friday afternoon Banning made a successful effort to raise S. F. 64, which had been indefinitely postponed at the morning session, and send it back to the railroad committee for amendment. This is the bill which establishes certain regulations in railroad construction, keeping all structures eight feet from the tracks, bridges or wires twenty-one feet high, and tracks fourteen feet apart. As amended its provisions will apply only to new construction work and the union stock yards at Omaha will be exempt, it is understood.

The senate spent some time in debating S. F. 4, which increases the term of county superintendents to four years and makes only those people under the school supervision of the county superintendent eligible in voting at their election. First provisions seemed to be acceptable, but Tomek and Smrha led a fight on the latter, Tomek stated, that as all people in the county pay taxes, such a provision would amount to taxation without representation.

The senate passed two bills before adjourning to 2 p. m. Monday. They are:

S. F. 120, by Johnson, referring to legal notices published in daily or semi-weekly papers.

S. F. 109, by Robbins. Amends Omaha school law requiring submission of all bond issues to people to be carried by three-fifths vote instead of majority, and reduces maximum interest rate from 6 to 5 per cent.

S. F. 175, Gumb's bill applying to the sewage disposal plant matter at Fremont, was advanced to third reading.

Fire Truck and Auto Collide; No One Is Injured

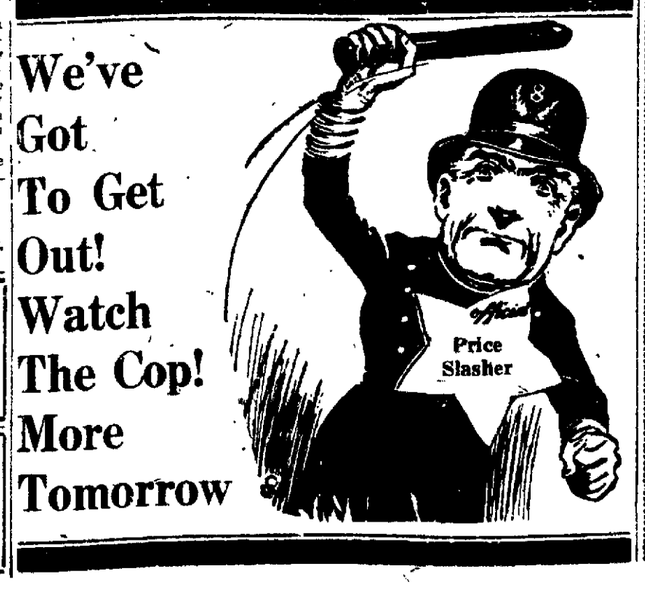

A collision between a fire truck from Engine House No. 3 and a new Buick sedan driven by L. M. Troup at Sixteenth and Washington streets late Friday afternoon resulted in damage to both vehicles but no one was injured. The truck was making a run to 1635 Sumner street.

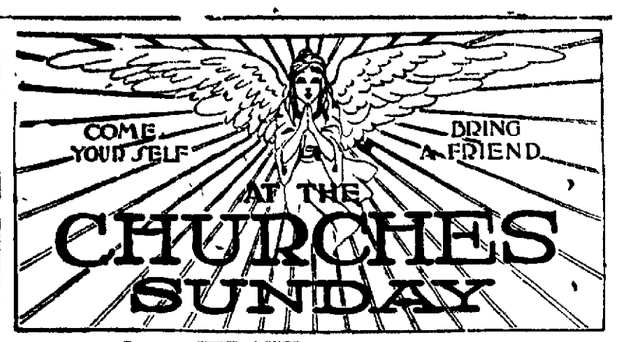

Mr. Troup says that he was going slow at the time of the accident and was unable to hear the fire truck because his car was completely enclosed. He also said that he was unaware that the truck was near until he saw it almost upon him. He attaches no blame to the fire truck driver. A. A. Vanlandingham was the driver of the truck.

The truck was going south on Sixteenth and Mr. Troup driving west on Washington when they collided in the middle of the intersection. The Buick was carried over the curb on the parking at the southwest corner of the intersection, while the truck, making a sharp turn, went over the curb and rolled for about one hundred feet along the side walk on the south side of Washington between Fifteenth and Sixteenth before it could be stopped.

Mr. Troup's wife, and his son-in-law, Elmer Hansen, were in the car at the time.

Trucks Collide; No One Injured

Three people barely escaped serious injury when two delivery trucks crashed into one another at Twelfth and L streets late Friday afternoon.

C. H. Reddig, of the Reddig and Barrett Sheet Metal Works, was driving south on Twelfth and Arnold B. Berk, 2803 T street, driving a truck for the Central market, was driving east on L street.

The two machines collided with sufficient force to completely overturn both of them. Both cars were slightly damaged. C. M. Uhlig, of Holdrege, was riding with Reddig.

Berk sustained a bruise on one hip.

FILLMORE COUNTY TO PATROL ROADS

State and County Highways to Be Kept In Best Condition.

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., Feb. 17.—Residents of this county who are interested in good roads are pleased over the action of the county board of commissioners, who at their meeting this week agreed to a patrol system for all county roads. This will mean 134 miles of road patrolled all the time. Ten men with between $6,000 and $7,000 worth of machinery will be engaged in keeping the roads between all towns of the country in the pink of condition.

Sixty-seven miles of county road building has been done up to the present time, and the federal highway system in the county is about the same number of miles.

The expense will be met entirely from the automobile license fund, of which $13,000 is kept here and $20,000 goes to the state. Over $29,000 has been received up to this time in auto license fees, an increase over the amount paid in at this date last year. The collection of fees was begun a month later this year which indicates that the total at the end of the year will considerably exceed last year's

Dangerous Curve In State Road to Be Straightened

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17.—The curve in the Adams county road leading to the Webster county bridge is to be straightened. This decision was reached by the supervisors here after a conference with C. M. Wright of the state highway department. Several persons lost their lives at this curve last year and it is to prevent any further accidents that the change is to be made. The Adams county board has adopted a budget of $16,000 for road maintenance this year, a total of $2,000 more than last year.

Contracts for wooden bridges were let to the Standard Bridge company of Omaha and for cement bridges to Frank H. Kitts. The contracts were said to be about 10 per cent lower than last year.

Fathers and Sons Join In Banquet

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., Feb. 17.—A father-son banquet was held at the Congregational church Thursday evening attended by 115 men and boys. Dr. C. G. Murphy, of Lincoln, was the principal speaker, and others on the toast list were Rev. J. A. McKeeman, pastor of the church; W. L. Chenoweth, superintendent of the church school; and William Ralston, president of the men's class. Melvin Ralston, assistant superintendent of the church school, acted as toastmaster. Judge R. D. Brown, of Crete, and J. P. Rigg, principal of the local high school were guests. The addresses were interspersed with appropriate songs rendered by the fathers and sons in unison. The music was in charge of Roscoe Mohrman.

Fire Risk Found Low In Hastings

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17—After making more than 200 inspections here since last Tuesday, Chief Fire Inspector W. B. Anderson said today that Hastings is remarkably free from causes for fire.

"The general condition is very good," he said, "in fact, above the average. Co-operation has been shown on all sides to abide by the state fire laws and merchants are especially to be commended on their efforts."

Widow Loses Her Suit For Damages

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17—The verdict in the case of Mrs. Blanche Goble against the Osborn Oil company was in favor of the defendant. Ten jurors decided that the oil company was not responsible for the death of Orin Goble, the husband of the plaintiff. Mrs. Goble accused the oil company of selling her husband gasoline instead of kerosene and alleged that his death was due to the resulting explosion when he attempted to kindle a fire with the liquid.

Carpenters Asking Higher Wage Than Paid Last Season

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17.—Hastings carpenters have announced an increase of 10 cents per hour in their wage schedule for the coming year. This makes their wage 85 cents an hour, the same that they asked in 1921. During 1920, they received $1.00. The new schedule will go into effect April 1.

Pioneer of Custer County Summoned

(Special to The Star.)

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Feb. 17.—Milo F. Young, pioneer settler in Custer county, passed away at the home of his grand-daughter, Mrs. James Lomax, at the age of ninety-six years. Deceased had never been ill and death was due to the wearing out of the physical body. Mr. Young played a prominent part in the early history of Nebraska, being a freighter out of Omaha in 1858. He was a scout for Uncle Sam and also fought with the Second Nebraska cavalry, putting down Indian uprisings. Mr. Young was a member of the Masonic lodge forty-two years. His body was laid to rest in the Callaway cemetery, the Masonic lodge of that village performing the last rites.

Heats Paint and Bad Fire Ensues

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17.—Because Lester Larkin thought paint had to be melted before it would be of proper consistency to use, the office of the Hastings Ice and Coal company was destroyed by fire.

Mr. Larkin, a member of the firm, put the bucket of paint on the stove in the office. In a very short time the paint ran over the stove, instantly igniting. By the time the fire company arrived, the office was a mass of flames. The office furniture was practically a total loss and two trucks that were housed nearby, were badly burned.

The total loss could not be estimated.

World War Veteran Victim of Pneumonia

(Special to The Star.)

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Feb. 17.—Leo E. Hamm died here Thursday evening, after a long illness, starting with the flu and developing into pneumonia. Mr. Hamm was thirty-three years of age, leaves a wife and one child. He served overseas in the world war, in the 89th division, having been with the soldier boys from North Platte, as he was a barber in that city, when the war came on. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at the Latter Day Saints church, of which he was a member. The American Legion will take part in the services.

Telephone Man Is Given Promotion

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17—Herbert F. McCulla, manager of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph company's office at Hastings, has been promoted to the position of commercial engineer and assistant to the superintendent of the Lincoln office. He will assume his duties March 1. W. C. Cooper, district manager, said that it is not yet known who will fill Mr. McCulla's place here. Miss Mabel Atwater of Superior will become chief operator here on March 1, filling the vacancy left by Mrs. Aaron Jones, who has held the position since May 1, 1916. She was formerly Miss Hazel Richeson.

HOME TALENT PLAY.

(Special to The Star.)

GENEVA, Neb., Feb. 17.—"The Lighthouse Girl," a four act play, was given by home talent Thursday night to a full house. The title role was well played by Miss Ruth Williams, with able support from the rest of the cast. Mrs. Clarence Newman, Mrs. Lyle Cumberland, Miss Mabelle Vance, Messrs. Donald Lamb, Lloyd Russell, Ralph Reemts, Archie Anderson and H. W. Stein. Mr. Stein was also the coach of the production.

TO HOLD INSTITUTE.

(Special to The Star.)

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Feb. 17.—Arrangements are being completed for a farmer's institute to be held in Broken Bow February 28. Each branch of the agricultural industry will have a special speaker. J. H. Frandsen of Lincoln will represent the Dairymen's association and ex-Governor McKelvie will speak on the general agricultural problems. Other speakers are yet to be selected.

MASON WINS DEBATE.

(Special to The Star.)

MASON CITY, Neb., Feb. 17—Mason City high school debating team won a decision from Ansley high school debating team on the question: Resolved that Nebraska should adopt the Kansas industrial court system. Mason defended the negative and won by two to one.

INSTALLS INCUBATOR.

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., Feb. 17.—H. H. Dann, groceryman of this city, has installed a 10,000-egg incubator at his home here and proposes to do custom hatching. He expects to take off a hatch every week, and has already received several orders for chicks.

INJURED BY FALL.

(Special to The Star.)

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Geo. Anderson slipped and fell to the bottom of the basement steps, seriously injuring her spine and badly bruising her body.

WASHINGTON—Revelations which will shock the conscience of the country, were promised last night by Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, war comander of the Eighteenth division, in a public statement issued regarding the circumstances surrounding his recent enforced retirement from the active roll of the army.

Local Business Men Report Marked Improvement in all Lines; Outlook is Bright

Business conditions at the present time are much better than they were last year at this time, according to J. C. Harpham, of Harpham Brothers and company, leather, hardware and cotton goods wholesalers. The articles most in demand are those intended for farm use, such as harness which indicates possibly that the farmer is regaining his purchasing power. Mr. Harpham said that the spring of the year is a rush season for that line, and that a slump may be expected after the busy season has passed. Business prospects, however, appeared to him to be much brighter than they have for some time past.

A great many farmers are getting repairs for their tractors and other farm machinery earlier this season than they have for several years, according to W. N. Ress, of the Ress Machine works. For the past few seasons the farmers have waited as long as possible before ordering repairs for their tractors, and then had only that work done which was absolutely necessary. This year many are already beginning to have their machines overhauled. He stated that business during the month of December was better than it had been for two years previous. The larger part of the work is out of town work, indicating to him that the farmer out in the state feels optomistic over prospects and is preparing to handle the crop. Business will continue to be good, and conditions are getting back to normal in that line, he said.

In the produce line business is much better than it has been for some time, according to P. C. Gross, manager of the Lincoln Produce company. Prices paid for produce are high at the present and all indications point toward a decided increase. The demand for farm produce is large, he stated, and would probably cause the increase to come.

The months of January and February have been unusual in the wholesale confectionary and tobacco business, according to E. V. Austin, of the Wright Mercantile company, in that almost as great an amount of business was done in those months as in December, the heaviest month of the year. Mr. Austin declared that he looked for the trade to continue, although possible not as strongly as before. In the tobacco line people were asking for the medium priced cigar. During the business depression the demand was for a cheap cigar but he believes that now the pessimistic period is over and that while people do not wish to be extravagant they still demand quality in their purchases. Mr. Austin believes that business in that line is good over the entire country, due to the fact that his company has great difficulty in getting orders filled in time. This is due, he thought to the fact that other wholesalers are also receiving a large ousiness. This year promises to be a much better year than 1922 he said.

F. R. Gillen, of Gillen and Boney, wholesale confectioners, declared that business conditions in that line are much better so far this year than during the year of 1922. The demand for confections, he said, has increased over that of last year about twenty per cent. People are buying the better grades of candies, asking for quality.

Prices on raw materials are advancing and may cause an increased price to the retailer. However the only hindrance to a good business, with the exception of the crops, will be an increase in price that is too great. Much depends on the crop prospects. If the crop looks good and the farmer feels that he has a chance to harvest a good crop he will feel like buying. Should the prospects be otherwise the farmer will lose his present optimism and refuse to buy anything not essential. Buying out over the state indicated to him, he said, that the people felt like buying.

The farmers are not selling their old cars, according to Lew Polsky, of the Lincoln Auto Exchange, but are either keeping them when they buy a new car, or are trading them in on new cars. He said that the farmer business so far this year has been about fifty per cent better than last. He looks for business to open up still heavier sometime in March and to continue to improve until fall. So far this year he feels that business has been very good indeed, and is very optimistic concerning the future.

According to Dan W. Dean, manager of the Lincoln Mattress company conditions have ben good and business is brisk.

Whether or not the year 1923 will be a good business year depends largely upon whether or not the farmers raise a good crop, according to W. N. Watson, president of the Lincoln Business College. The enrollment of the college so far this year is just about the same as that of last, with the exception of the fact that the enrollment of those taking stenographic courses has greatly increased. If the farmers do get a goo dcrop Mr. Watson looks for a greatly increased enrollment from the farm element in the state in the practical business courses offered. The interest shown is unusually good, he stated, but a great many feel that as yet they do not have the time and money to devote to a year or six months in school. After a good crop he looks for a change in this condition. The school is financially ahead of last year, he declared.

Business conditions in all lines should open up nicely about April 1, in the opinion of J. M. Bramlette, manager of the Omaha, Lincoln and Beatrice Railway company. His own company's business has held up wonderfully well during the past year, considering the territory which it serves, he says.

The Butter Nut Bread company, of which Edgar Schulte is the manager also strikes the optimistic note. Throughout the winter, business has picked up a little week by week, with noticeable increases lately.

STANDING UP FOR NEBRASKA

In refreshing contrast to the petty political strife and bickering which has characterized much of the present legislature's work is the straightforward and courageous attitude taken by the house of representatives against repealing or weakening the Reed-Norval language law.

There was a time when it seemed that the Americanization program started in 1918, developed in 1919 and strengthened in 1921, might be undone in part by this legislature, because of the pernicious activity of some politicians in both political parties who have held out to a certain class the false hope that the gates might be opened again to the professional peddler of alien propaganda.

But the Nebraska house has met the situation squarely and unequivocally by refusing to make itself the instrument of these politicians. It has taken its stand on the same side with the previous legislatures in support of an American education for American children, as against a hyphenated course of study which would becloud the juvenile mind as to whether this or some other country is the one to which it owes allegiance.

The best feature of the situation is that a majority of both the republican and the democratic membership joined hands in repelling this latest onslaught by the forces of hybrid citizenship. It is an encouraging indication that, while men will play politics on matters of lesser moment, there is no general inclination among the representatives of Nebraska to sacrifice the vital welfare of their state and country upon partisan altars.

The suspicion existed that the Reed-Norval repeal measure, thrown in as it was on the last day allowed for introduction of bills, was intended in part to bolster up the appeal taken by opponents of the law to the United States supreme court. The house very properly refused to let itself be used as a catspaw for that purpose.

It was an astounding declaration to be made on the floor of the house, but very illuminating as to the origin of the bill, when its chief sponsor said:

"You men can't go back to your German constituents and get their votes again if you are not right on this bill."

He supplemented this with the warning that those who were not "right" would "meet the same fate that the republican candidate for governor did in the late campaign."

So long as there are communities in Nebraska where some other language is spoken in preference to English, and where voting is influenced by that factor, just so long will this state need the Reed-Norval law. When the rising generation in such communities has been reared to think, speak, read and write in the American language as its mother tongue, that will be time enough to talk about repealing it.

Meanwhile, the people of Nebraska will thank the members of the legislature who forgot politics and voted to let the language issue rest until finally decided in the courts.

THE BORAH PLAN.

The latest utterances of United States Senator Borah are rather convincing proof of how far a man of strong convictions will sway with the pendulum. Senator Borah less than three years ago was the bitterest opponent of entangled alliances abroad. He wanted none of it, and although there is little reason to suspect that he entertained any very deep respect for President Harding's inability as a lawmaker he gave his colleague his unstinted support in the campaign of 1920. He supported President Harding solely on the ground that the democratic candidate had committed the nation to a part in the league of nations.

Now Borah is outbidding Woodrow Wilson.

The Idaho senator proposes to go further than Woodrow Wilson ever suggested in the Borah plan for the formation of the league to outlaw war. His former associates describe him as a greater "international idealist than Woodrow Wilson." Carried to its logical conclusion the Borah scheme would make America a part and parcel of an organization to outlaw law. That means she must be prepared to use her army and navy, if need be, to prevent any nation from inaugurating war.

Senator Borah explains that so far, all organizations looking toward world peace have failed inasmuch as they recognize the legitimacy of war. That can't be, the Idaho senator argues. It would be just as logical for the country to recognize the legitimacy of murder, dueling or piracy, he contends. Senator Borah's argument sounds good. But the state provides a penalty for the crime of murder. It provides the machinery to carry that sentence into effect. Mr. Borah has not explained what he proposes to do towards enforcing his decree outlawing war. As a matter of fact the former "bitter-ender" who waged a particularly vicious fight on Article X of the covenant of the league of nations, must now confess that to be effective something very similar to the provision which he so vigorously criticised is necessary for an effective world association.

Borah has traveled far in the last two years. He acquired a large following in his bitter opposition to the league of nations. He has now alienated to a very considerable extent that following by his advocacy of a new world association to prevent war. It did not require a great amount of courage to advocate opposition to the league of nations for the American people have always been strictly provincial in their faith. Borah is giving evidence of the courage to carry his fight for American participation in world affairs. It's a more difficult role but he has not shown any weakening.

THE MURDER OF SERGEY SEMENOV.

If one desires a true conception of affairs in Russia let him read that terrible story of the murder of Sergey P. Semenov, Russian national writer and close friend of the late Count Leo Tolstoy.

Semenov died because his neighbors believed he was responsible for their misfortunes. Whenever misfortune befell any of the villagers, where for years Semenov made his home, his neighbors ascribed it to "the accused black magic of Semenov." He received the name of "sorcerer."

One day Semenov was on his way to the local teacher, who had been accustomed to copy his manuscript. In a clump of bushes were Gregory Malutin, his son, Nicholas, and his daughter, Vera. They shot him in cold blood. During the investigation, the Malutins are reported to have calmly declared:

"Yes, we killed the sorcerer. Is that a sin? He brought harm to our cattle. He brought illness to the village with his evil eye. The drouth was due to him. He was to blame for the famine."

Then the writer concluded the, "it was like the voice of the middle ages at the trial of witches. Poor Russia!"

Poor Russia, indeed.

If ever a nation has suffered grievously in the last five years it has been Russia. The terrible bloodshed attending the revolution and the rise in power of the communist party was nothing in comparison to the tragic blight which swept Russia during the famine. Millions perished, and reduced to most terrible emergencies, her progress has been set back many years.

But the murder of Semenov reveals the source of Russia's greatest tragedy. The appalling ignorance and superstition of some of the peasant classes represent an almost insurmountable obtacle to any orderly recovery of the country. Under conditions of the last five years, property and life have meant nothing in Russia. A nation, a large mass of whose population is still steeped in superstition and ignorance, offers little hope of early progress. Lack of food, bloodshed, and incompetent governmental machinery do not constitute the greatest tragedy in Russia. Instead one must look to the murder of Sergey Semenov and in it find an explanation of her terrible plight. There one finds indisputable evidence that Russia's greatest problem is the ignorance and superstition of her hungry, bewildered masses.

THE BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT.

Within a few weeks Lincoln will be host to several hundred high school boys, who will participate in the thirteenth annual interscholastic basketball tournament.

Total enrollment in the state association has already passed 325 high schools and it is expected that teams of 200 Nebraska high schools will be in the tournament. From a comparatively humble beginning, the basketball tournament has grown to be the biggest athletic event in interscholastic affairs. It has reached such proportions that it has commanded the attention of national publications, including Outing, which pronounced it the largest and most successful of its kind held any place in the United States.

The high school basketball tournament is a real institution and notwithstanding the fact that it has been rather severely criticised it has performed a real service in this state. It has served to keep hundreds of boys in school who otherwise would have left. It has restrained hundreds of others who might have fallen into habits which later on would have been a real menace. The necessity of keeping in good physical trim has been of real value to more than one high school boy.

The high school basketball tournament is an event, for which Lincoln is always proud to serve as host.

Comment by the Press

WHERE HUGHES FAILS.

The sort of irritation growing in Washington over Secretary Hughes' "now you see it, and now you don't" foreign policy is suggested by a Washington report to the Editor and Publisher, one of the outstanding newspaper trade papers.

Writing for newspaper men, the Washington correspondent of Editor and Publisher says:

"The persistent unwillingness of the American state department to disclose its activites in the international situation, or a partial failure to effect a clear understanding with its representative abroad, again has been responsible for the rather blurred public impression of what the United States was doing or not doing in the reparations tangle."

The reason for this statement is Secretary Hughes' inclination to blame the newspapers, because after news has leaked out in the foreign press, American newspaper men are expected to still sit in the dark, because the secretary is not ready to make statements.

The writer says:

"The state department has acknowledged nothing nor backed down from denials of American participation in developments overseas until forced to do so by the persistence and versimilitude of European dispatches."

When finally forced to speak by what European newspapers have published, the secretary denied that his representative, Mr. Boyden, had submitted a "plan." when it turned out later that he had submitted a "memorandum."

The Hughes policy of trying to keep everything under cover when European diplomatists are making things public is more and more irritating to the newspaper men. Here is an instance:

"The star chamber joint conference of the American and British war debt funding commissions which have been going on in Washington for a week also has been attacked in the senate. Virtually nothing has been disclosed as to the exact nature of the negotiations, and all that has been written on the general trend of the proceedings has been conjectural but in the main correct. The criticism of Senator McKellar, who took the American commissioners to task, was based on the fact that the British public apparently was being freely informed of the developments, if not by public announcement by members of the British commission, at least in manner to give the publication in the London newspapers an official semblance."

As a result of this, the reporter to the Editor and Publisher says:

"Reporters in Washington are heartily sick of the procedure which virtually forces them to get the American government angle on the international situation by checking up on foreign reports and prying their information from American public officials by hammer-and-tongs methods."

It may be that most of the trouble runs back to the president who seems to have no program, but Secretary Hughes seems to have developed no talent at all for handling the news side of foreign relations. He has allowed American-newspaper men to look to Europe for their news, and that naturally does not set well with them. Surely if the news is to be published anywhere, it ought to be in the United States, where we have made a hobby of free publicity and no secret diplomacy.—Des Moines Register.

More Truth Than Poetry

It's proper, if you manufacture glue,
To notify the world how well it sticks;
Announce to all men candidly that you
Are master of the best glue-making tricks;
Be not afraid to give your product praise—
That is, if it is glue or glass or cheese—
But if you write, be shrinking in your ways,
Approach the public humbly, on your knees.

If you become the author of a car
Announce the fact in type that's big and bold;
Say it is better far than others are,
No item of its excellence withhold;
Call men's attention to the springy springs,
And mention that the steel is strong and tough,
But if you earn your bread by writing things
You mustn't shout the merits of your stuff.

If you are playing ball you may proclaim
Yourself the best who ever swung a bat;
Or if your specialty's the fighting game
Insist that you're the champion at that;
In case you are a tailor, don't forget
Or fail to praise yourself to other men;
But if you write be like the violet
When speaking of the products of your pen.

Say that your Tuba, if you are making tubs,
Are better than tubs ever were before,
Or you will be among the common grubs,
No pathways will be beaten to your door.
But if you write don't let it be supposed
That you believe the stuff you do is great,
Or when your little case is diagnosed,
They'll tell you that your ego's overweight

Bill Not Needed.

We are not in favor of the rural credit bill introduced at the present session to provide an easy way to borrow money. The fund to be provided by the issuance of state bonds. Machinery would have to be set up to do the appraising of land values and to do the loaning, besides caring for the sale and investment of the hundreds of thousands of dollars of state bonds necessary to carry on a state credit system as contemplated by the bill. With the war finance corporations that loaned about 50 millions in Nebraska still in full force and the land loan banks doing business in the state, it looks to us as further opportunity to secure farm loans are unnecessary. Any one who has the credit necessary can borrow all the money they want. It is the scarcity of good collateral that pinches instead of the shortage of money. The old saying is true "No man is as far from market as he who has nothing to sell," the same applies to the man who wants to borrow money without giving good security. Don't bond the state to loan to men who cannot give adequate security.—Burt County Herald.

A Pest Hunt.

A literary society in a western village had an oyster supper the other night to celebrate the triumphant conclusion of a big "pest hunt."

The members had turned for a week, from literary pursuits to the pursuit of rodents and other farming pests. They reported slaying 10,133 sparrows, 2,059 mice, 407 rats, 14 weasels, 8 hawks, and 6 owls, and boasted that they had saved the farmers of their township $35,000.

Possibly they had. But anyone who has paid any attention to what the scientific students of animal and bird life have been saying in recent years about "pests" may doubt whether that hunt was altogether successful.

The sparrows, mice and rats can well be spared. But how about the weasels, hawks and owls, which prey on sparrows, mice and rats? The owl especially is reckoned nowadays as a good friend of the farmer, and many ornithologists insist that the hawk does far more good than harm.

It woud make a good subject for debate at the next meeting of that literary society.—Norfolk News.

Class Legislation.

OXFORD, Neb., Feb. 16.—To the Editor of The Star: The Star's summary of the workings of the parole and indeterminate sentence law was opportune and should be appreciated by the mass of Nebraska people who desire to have these so-called progressive laws repealed. It should also be an eye-opener to those who seem to think because Mr. Fenton has been hired as warden of the penitentiary that he is clothed with some miraculous power to dictate the criminal laws of the state. These laws are strictly class legislation, i. e., for the benefit of criminals, and against the general commonwealth.

If our court procedure could be reformed so justice could be meted out without unnecessary delay, and sentence pronounced without extortionate expense on the taxpayers, it would be an improvement much to be desired. Then if the state had the courage, common sense and business tact to provide work for its criminals that they could work for their keep and that of their families, if they have any, our taxpayers would receive a greater blessing than any legislation enacted in the last twenty years.

I would also commend your editorial against the income tax proposition. Our new legislature promised to cut taxes all possible without destroying efficiency but some legislators are paying more attention to the dogmas of self-styled tax experts than the supplications of the tax payers. They tell the poor farmers they are sorry for them but officialdom dont want salaries cut or officers lessened but are strongly in favor of more salaries and more offices and more perquisites. Hence the only way to help the tax burdened is to find more ways of sticking on taxes. Why is it that everybody seems to think our legislators are easy marks? Even the preachers think they can work them on a reduced fare graft on the theory the tax payers will get a cheaper gospel.

Here and There

OUR FRIEND THE DENTIST.

Our relation to the dentist is an interesting one. He relieves our ills, repairs our negligence and blunders, usually with sympathy and skill.

The skill of an able dentist is a matter of mystery and admiration. His craftsmanship runs into delicate surgery, or is akin to that of the artisan in jewelry. One remarked to us with modesty: 'A dentist is a super-tinker." From that array of tiny instruments he must select just the right one for use in a minute, often obscure, spot. He must apply force with amazing nicety. Behind the infinitesimal though hard wall is the nerve. With only experience and judgment to guide him, the dentist measures its thickness as with an instrument of precision; he determines its degree of resistance to his gnawing tool. A miscalculation and his work is lost; the plan of restoration destroyed—and, important to us, shrill pain and maybe the loss of a tooth. Yet we seldom hear of such mishaps. Our own experience reports no such happening, and suggests only admiration for the skill, gentleness, and wisdom of the dentist.

We like hem, too, on their personal side. Those we know have an amusing knowledge of human nature seen in miniature crises that display it brazenly. With exhibits of weakness, cowardice, even, they are very tolerant. We like their testimony to the nerve and courage of women. They seem to have a tireless interest in their patients as cases and as persons.

Because of the skill of its practitioners, and of their public and individual service in matters of health, dentistry stands high among the benign professions. Happy the man, and happy the family that has a good dentist—Colliers.

SETTLING WITH COLMOBIA.

The check for $5,000,000 on the United States treasury which Secretary Mellon has presented to the government of Colombia is substantial evidence of America's policy of dealing fairly with her Latin-American neighbors. American statesmen have long protested the friendship of the United States for the South American countries, but until recent years it has not been wholly convincing to Latin-American leaders. The treaty which provides for the payment of $25,000,000 to Colombia to cover certain alleged damages incurred by that country during the construction of the Panama canal, adds the deed to the word of our friendship. This $5,000,000 will doubtless prove very convincing to Colombia. And as the other installments of $5,000,000 per year for the next four years are paid, the good intentions of the United States will become more manifest to all the South American countries. Our relations with the Latin-American countries were never more close and cordial than now. They constitute one of our most important trade fields. The fulfillment of this Colombian treaty comes at an opportune time.—Houston Post.

CIVIC ASPIRATIONS.

Chicago looks forward to a day when its population will number 50,000,000 persons, when its boundaries will extend into three states, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin; when the west coast of Lake Michigan from the southern tip to Milwaukee will be a throbbing, mighty metropolis. An organization has been formed to foster that aim. But the aim is not high. What Chicago seeks is merely bigness. What it should seek is greatness.

What Chicago should aspire to is a community soul and spirit commensurate with the population it already has. Chicago has been crying out for a subway these many years. But still it hasn't the subway. Its main avenues of commerce are choked with traffic. Chicago's city politics only last week was pronounced by investigating experts more graft ridden than ever was the administration of the notorious Boss Tweed. A great city would demand a municipal government equal to its greatness.—The Grand Rapids Herald.

ARMOUR FIRE LOSS IS TWO MILLIONS

Plan to Begin Rebuilding Plant at Omaha In Very Short Time.

Lack Of Water Pressure Responsible For Increased Damage.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 17.—Firemen late Friday afternoon began dynamiting the ruins of the Armour buildings to raze walls still standing and to prepare the way for an early rebuilding of the hog plant. A Watson Armour declared that a modern plant to cost $500,000 will be erected at once. Bulletins were posted during the afternoon at the Armour main plant, calling for 200 men to start work Saturday morning clearing away the debris. The bulletins, signed by local contractors, state former Armour employes of the hog plant will be given preference.

O. C. Willis, general manager of the Armour plant, declared that he believed that lack of pressure in the water mains was largely responsible for the delay in checking the flames.

John O'Hearn of Chicago, superintendent of packing plants of Armour Co., gave out the first detailed estimate of the loss. He placed the damage to buildings and equipment at $900,000 and the loss of products contained in the buildings at $750,000. It was said that the total loss would reach $2,000,000.

Mr Armour left Friday night for Chicago to lay reconstruction plans before the board of directors of the company. He said that no definite plans for rebuilding would be announced until after action by the board.

Wilhelm Doman, Pioneer Workman Called to Rest

(Special to The Star.)

SYRACUSE, Neb., Feb. 17.—Wilhelm Doman, pioneer of this community, died at his home in Syracuse at 5 oclock Friday morning following an illness of several weeks.

"Uncle Billy" as he was familiarly known by all, was a true pioneer of this comunity. He came to this section in the early freighting days and built a blacksmith shop at what was then known as Nursery Hill, a stage station on the Overland route. Nursery Hill was two miles west of of where Syracuse now is and at that time was the mail point for this territory.

When the railroad came through he built the first business building in the town, the old village smithy, which was until a few years ago the familiar point of interest in town. He continued at his work here for many years until from age he was compelled to retire from business. While at Nursery Hill he shod the horses on the Overland stage line and formed the acquaintance of many of the old timers.

After coming to Syracuse he was known all over the territory around and was in demand as a workman for long distances. He was a true pioneer and always worked for the advancement of his town and community.

He had a large number of friends all over this part of the country.

"Uncle Billy" had reached nearly his eighty-ninth year. He was a powerful man, of great strength and skill. He was long a member of the Odd Fellows and a sincere worker in that order as long as he was able to attend its meetings. He is survivd by his wife, three sons and one daughter, all living here except the oldest son, Sherman, who resides in Lincoln.

A Letter from Mrs. Ward Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Springfield, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved a splendid medicine for me before my fourth child was born. With the first three I had been sick and weak, and had sick headaches twice a week. I couldn't keep enough food down to do me any good, and my work was left undone many a time. My sister-in-law told me to take the Vegetable Compound when I began to have the same old dreadful sickness and headaches and was so worn out. Since then I have only had two headaches, had a good appetite and scarcely lost a meal. I have a fine, healthy baby girl who has never had a sick day. The nicest part is that I am healthy, too. It did me a lot of good, and if I should ever have another baby I will take your medicine at once."—Mrs. BESSIE WARD, 1027 Park Avenue, Springfield, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers, and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire system.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 17.

CATTLE—Receipts, 250. All classes of cattle were, as usual on Saturday, nominally steady. Demand for the few on offer was slack. For the week, light steers and yearlings have held about steady, but other grades of beef cattle are mostly 15 to 25c lower. Tops were $9.80 on heavy steers and $9.50 on yearlings. Most grades of she stock also closed easier, though some shipping kinds are still stronger than a week ago. There has been less outlet for feeders this week and they are closing weak to 15 to 25c lower.

HOGS—Receipts, 15,000. Saturday's liberal run of hogs moved readily after a trading basis was reached, the bulk of the hogs moving at a decline of 15 to 20c. Light hogs and butcher weights sold largely at $7.75@7.85, the latter top. Packing sows moved largely at $6.75@7.00 with the bulk of sales at $7.75@7.85. Current prices are 20 to 25c lower than the close of last week.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.

Profit taking sales by speculative interests coincident with a resumption of pool operations in other quarters imparted an irregular trend to today's brief and active session of the stock market. California Petroleum, Pan American and Baldwin were heavy at intervals, at last named sagging to 140½ after creating a new high record for the year at 142. Steel and Tube, preferred, Columbia Gas, American Brakeshoe, Nash Motors New Haven and American Linseed, preferred, also were under pressure. Buying continued however, in the coppers, foods, motor accessories, tobaccos and low priced oils, several of which made substantial gains and established new high prices for the year. The closing was irregular Sales aproximated 700,000 shares.

Opening prices in today's stock market were irregular, but the main tendency appeared to be upward. Baldwin receded fractionally on profit taking, but United States Steel and Studebaker moved to higher ground. Renewed buying of the copper shares sent Kennecott to 42, a new high record for the year. Peak prices also were established by DuPont and General Motors. Railway Steel Spring, Royal Dutch and American Beet Sugar were heavy.

Realizing sales caused recessions of approximately a point in California Petroleum, United States Alcohol and Atlantic Gulf, but the general list continued upward. Baldwin recovered its early loss and duplicated yesterday's high of 141½. Good buying power was noted in the merchandising, motor accessory and equipment groups, gains of a point or more being recorded by May Department Stores, Brown Shoe, Lima Locomotive, New York Airbrake, Inspiration Copper and Crucible Steel. Rails also were in better demand, Louisville & Nashville and Ann Arbor preferred gaining a point each, and New York Central, Reading and Norfolk & Western recording large fractional gains. Foreign exchanges were irregular, demand sterling holding steady around $4.69, the year's best price, and French francs dropping 5 points to 5.95 cents.

New York Sugar.
NEW YORK, Feb 17.

SUGAR—The raw sugar market was firmer and prices were higher with Cubas quoted at 5 13-16c cost and freight, equal to 6.96 for centrifugal. There were sales of 15,000 bags of Cubas for March shipment.

The raw sugar futures market was firmer on continued buying by commission houses and Cuban interests, although trading was a little less active. Prices opened 10 to 23 points higher and sold 22 to 28 points above the previous close but eased off slightly near the close under realizing. Final prices were 20 to 26 points higher; closing, March, 5.28c; May, 5.48c; July, 5.57c; September, 5.72c.

There were no changes in refined sugar, but a good inquiry was reported with fine granulated listed at 8.25@8.30c.

Refined futures were nominal.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 17.

WHEAT—Fresh upturns in the price of wheat took place today during the early dealings, the chief factor being absence of any renewal of heavy selling. Besides, weather conditions in the winter wheat belt acted as a handicap to bears. Commission houses were the principal buyers. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c to ¼ to ⅝c higher, with May $1.20½@1.20⅝ and July $1.16½@1.16¾, was followed by a slight reaction but then the market rallied again.

Subsequently, resumption of selling on the part of houses with eastern connections led to a temporary downward swing in prices. Demand broadened on the decline, however, and the market recovered, bulls putting stress on the British debt settlement and on asserted cheapness of wheat compared with the general commodity list. The close was unsettled, ⅛c net lower to ½c advance. May $1.19⅞@1.20 and July $1.15⅝@1.15¾.

CORN—Corn and oats were firmer with wheat. After opening ⅛ to ⅛c up, May 75⅞@75⅝c, the corn market scored a little further upturn before beginning to react.

market when wheat displayed weakness. Corn closed unsettled, ⅛ to ½c to ⅝ to ⅝c net higher, with May 75⅝c to 75⅞@76⅝c.

OATS—Oats started ⅛c off to ⅛c advance, May 46⅛@46⅝c, and later held near to the initial range.

PROVISIONS—Provisions showed a little strength with grain despite lower quotations on hogs.

NAME WINNERS IN NEBRASKA CLUBS

Boys and Girls Honored For Proficiency In Swine Breeding.

For several years the Sioux City Stock Yards company through President F. L. Eaton, has offered premiums to boys and girls for exceptionally good work in swine clubs, directed by the university of Nebraska agricultural college. This year's winners are: Susan Decamp, Clearwater, Antelope county; James Brozorsky, Creighton, Knox county; Fred Gemmell, Carroll, Wayne county; Hillman Gustin, Rosalie, Thurston county; Roy Bierman, Dakota City, Dakota county; Dorothy Norris, Laurel, Cedar county; Levi Muilie, Ponca Dixon county; Frank Toelle, West Point, Cuming county; Leonard Kolterman, Pierce, Pierce county.

They will mingle with over 200 high ranking club members on the agricultural college campus of the University of Nebraska, the first of week of June. Mr. Eaton is also announcing ten trips for 1923 winners, under similar conditions.

To Push Bankers' Measure First in The Lower House

Because of the split that has taken place in the banking committee of the state senate as to which of two bills proposed by bankers, amending the state guaranty law, shall be given preference, the committee of bankers behind the original bill has decided to push its proposition first in the house of representatives, in the hope of getting its own measure to the front from that end.

An agreement was reached in the representative assembly Saturday forenoon to take up the bill drafted by J. P. Palmer of Omaha and backed by the state bankers committee, next Tuesday at 10 a. m. The two senate bills are still in the hands of the banking committee, and hearings are being held upon them from time to time, the next one being set for Wednesday evening of the coming week.

The house measure, H. R. 272, appears to have practically unanimous support of the banking committee for the lower chamber. Chairman Troy L. Davis of the committee arranged a preliminary hearing at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, in the chamber, and invited members to be present to listen to explanations of the bill's provisions given by Mr. Palmer.

Bank Reserves Show Decline

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week-five days) shows an excess in reserve of $19,282,050. This is an increase of $6,434,990.

WEEKLY TRADE REVIEW

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Bradstreet's today says:

The most severe and widely extended storm of the winter has had a retarding effect on many lines of trade, tending especially to reduce retail trade and even measureably affected jobbing trade in slowing down movements of road salesmen. Farm produce receipts in the west and coal and raw material deliveries to Saturday have been checked and car loadings have fallen off. Collections have slowed a trifle also.

Coal buying has been sharply stimulated. These more or less temporary influences, however, have not prevented a good volume of seasonal jobbing trade, which has felt and still feels the stimulating effects of numerous shows, conventions and expositions.

The larger markets generally are reported full of buyers who are operating confidently for nearby wants, but conservatively as to the future, owing to price uncertainties.

Weekly bank clearings, $6,405,107,000

TOPEKA, Kas.—The Kansas supreme court yesterday handed down a decision upholding the constitutionality of the $25,000,000 state soldier bonus bond issue.

REDUCES NUMBER OF LEGISLATORS

Hardin's Bill Is Advanced to Third Reading By House.

Four Proposed Constitutional Amendments Die In Committee.

Two more of Mr. Hardin's "littl legislature" proposals reached general file in the house Saturday forenoon, being reported in by the committee on constitutional amendments. One of these provides four-year terms for state representatives and senators, half the membership of each branch to be elected every two years. Another of the series cut the personnel of the house from 100 to 50 and of the senate from 33 to 18. The third provides for redistricting the state in 1925 to correspond.

Four other proposed changes in the state constitution were consigned to the morgue by the same committee. They were:

Enabling legislature to raise or lower salaries of executive state officers at any time. (Present provision, once in eight years, and no change during an official's term of office.)

Similar provision for supreme and district court judges.

Exempting farm improvements from taxation.

Reducing salaries of legislators from $800 to $500 for a regular session.

Restrictions On Hunting.

A bill to prohibit trapping of muskrats and other fur-bearing animals upon any land owner's premises without his permission was amended in committee of the whole by making it unlawful also to shoot such animals, except wolves, coyotes and bobcats, without the owner's consent. The penalty was fixed at $50 to $100 fine Mr. Staats protested against taking away recreation privileges of men or boys who like to go out hunting, but Messrs. Keifer, Vance and Broome replied by citing instances where boys engaged in "innocent sport" had killed valuable live stock.

Cuts Minimum Bridge Strength.

On the assurance of Mr. Brown that his bill lowering the required strength of county bridges from 20 tons to 15 would reduce the average cost per bridge from $9,000 to $6,000 and save the taxpayers vast sums of money, without making the bridges unsafe, the house approved it for passage. Brown said his county, Stanton, is now owing $650,000 for bridges built under the present requirement.

The 20-ton bridge law was put through a few years ago at the instance of threshing machine owners to save themselves from loss due to machines breaking through weak bridges and culverts. Owners of heavy automobile trucks were also interested in it. But the added cost was declared by Mr. Brown to have run into many millions of dollars.

Weight of Tractors and Trucks.

Another bill, recommended by the committee on roads and bridges, limiting the weight of trucks on improved highways to 6,000 pounds for solid tires and 12,000 for pneumatic, and of trailers to 4,000 and 5,000 pounds respectively, was advanced. It includes a clause requiring steel rails to be laid at the cost of the contractor or agency doing construction work where large quantities of heavy materials must be transported over paved highways or streets, as in the case of the new state capitol. Electric or gasoline motive power must be used in such cases.

Prompt Opening of Bids.

To make it easier for small bidders to compete on public construction projects, the bill requiring bids to be opened in their presence and awards made promptly thereafter, so as to release certified checks of the unsuccessful ones, is the main purpose of another bill O. K.'d Saturday morning.

Burlington Relief Bill.

The house approved the bill forbidding the Burlington railroad to refuse relief payments to employes who sue for personal injury damages or to offset damage judgments by amounts paid as relief benefits.

Insurance Tax for Firemen.

The bill for a 1 per cent tax on gross premium receipts of fire insurance companies in cities of 10,000 population and over, to be collected by the state treasurer and paid over by him to the local fire departments or relief organizations, was advanced.

State Primary in August.

No opposition was manifested to the Peterson-Ball bill changing the date of the state primary from the third Tuesday in July to the third Tuesday of August, as it was prior to last year. Farmers demand this change, as they claim the July date keeps them away from the polls at threshing time.

Sight of Burglar Causes Death of California Man, 78

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17—The shock of being met by burglars when he opened his front door, upon returning home alone, caused the death of Claus Matzen, 78 years of age, according to a report made by a physician today.

INDICT ARMY MAN AS GIRL'S SLAYER

Doctor Jacobs, Camp Kearney Physician Alleged Slayer of Fritzi Mann.

Grand Jury's Action Brings Major Into Life Light Second Time.

(Associated Press.)

SAN DIEGGO, Cal., Feb. 17.—Dr. Louis L. Jacobs, physician at Camp Kearney, was arrested by county officers today under an indictment returned yesterday by the grand jury charging him with having murdered Fritzi Mann, pretty San Diego dancer, whose body was found on the beach at Torrey Pines, four weeks ago

Dr. Jacobs had been held in custody for a time following discovery of the body and evidences of murder, but was released on habeas corpus proceedings with the district attorney's office admitting that insufficient evidence was had at that time to hold him longer.

New evidence is said to have been presented before the grand jury resulting in return of an indictment late yesterday. The nature of this evidence was not revealed by the authorities.

Voluntarily Appears.

Dr. Jacobs' first entrance into the mystery of Fritzi Mann's death came when he voluntarily appeared at the office of the chief of police and told Chief Patrick that he had known Miss Mann for some time and had been with her on an automobile ride a few nights before her death He said that on that occasion she confided to him that she was in a delicate condition and asked him to assist her, but he declined.

Subsequent investigations as revealed by the authorities disclosed correspondence indicating the doctor had been aware of her condition for sometime and had made plans with her regarding an operation. One of his letters obtained by the authorities apparently showed he had arranged for Miss Mann to have the operation in Los Angeles and that the dancer had gone to that city, but had failed to visit the person whom the doctor had designated.

Was With a Man.

It has been established that Miss Mann and a male companion occupied one of the blue sea cottages at LaJolla for a time on Sunday night January 14. Her body was found on the beach ten miles north of LaJolla the following day. A. J. Kern, proprietor of the cottages, identified Miss Mann's body as that of the girl who had accompanied the man who had rented the cottage. He failed, however, to identify Jacobs as the man who had brought the girl and had signed the register with "Alvin Johnstone and wife, Los Angeles."

The theory evolved by the authorities was that the man who was with Miss Mann at the cottage was responsible for her body being on the beach and also responsible for, or at least cognizant, of the manner of her death. The investigations have satisfied them the visit to the cottage followed arrangements for an operation, but they have reached no definite conclusion as to whether an operation was attempted.

City Briefs

Fined for Disorderly Conduct—William Rogers, Thomas Smith and Mrs. Tillie Litner, pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and were each fined $25 and costs by Police Judge E. B. Chappell Saturday morning.

Negress Given 30 Days—Bertha James, colored, pleaded guilty in police court Saturday morning to a charge of intoxication and was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. The sentence was suspended by Police Judge E. B. Chappell, however, on the condition that she leave town within a week.

Delivery Truck Burns—A delivery truck belonging to Ben Simon and Sons caught fire Friday afternoon at Seventeenth and VanDorn streets, the body being badly burned and considerable damage done to the rest of the car. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Georgia School Asks Sample—The Wadley district school of Wadley, Georgia, through Miss Ione Calhoun, has written to Mayor Zehrung asking for a teaspoonful of Nebraska earth. The mayor is responding with a spoonful, good measure, of earth from the city hall square, neatly wrapped in a container. The purpose, the request states is for the planting of a tree on the school campus in a box which contains soil from every state in the union. As mayor of Nebraska's capital city, Mr. Zehrung is complying with the unusual request.

Liquor Violation Charge—An information has been filed in federal district court by Don W. Stewart, assistant district attorney, charging Louis L. Urban with illegal possession and sale of liquor in Saunders county on January 19 and 20. His bond has been fixed at $500.

Ask Sheriff's Aid—Sheriff Claude P. Hensel has been appealed to to help locate W. L. Parks, of Lebanon, Kas., whose son, Lester, is reported critically ill. Mr. Parks left Lebanon in a covered wagon for some point in Iowa and is said to have spent Friday night at Milford.

DECIDE TO CUT OFF ELECTRICAL SUPPLY IN ESSEN

restaurant battle Thursday night between French and Belgian soldiers and Essen policemen. The fighting started when guests summoned the police after the soldiers had been refused service and one of the Belgians had drawn his revolver.

(Associated Press.)

ESSEN, Feb. 17.—The employes of the municipal electric works have decided to cut off Essen's supply of electricity as a result of the imposition of the fine of 5,000,000 marks on Director Buszmann of the local plant.

Attempting Terrorism.

International News Service.)

DUSSELDORF, Feb. 17.—Guerrilla warfare, similar to that raging in Ireland, is breaking out in the Ruhr, according to reports received by French headquarters today from the "front line." Bands of German youths armed with revolvers, are creating terror. An attempt was made to shoot General Laigneiot, of the French forces.

Invade Stinnes' Works.

ESSEN, Feb. 17.—French troops today occupied Geisenkirchen in reprisal for the refusal of the municipality to pay the 100,000,000 marks fine imposed earlier in the week.

Warns Against Mediation.

PARIS Feb. 17.—The French foreign office has instructed Count De Saint Aulaire, the French ambassador to England, to warn Premier A. Bonar Law not to attempt mediation in the Ruhr, the Journal stated today. The newspaper, in an article, which appeared to be officially inspired, said:

"France has decided to reject any intervention in the Ruhr. The only solution acceptable to France is unqualified capitulation by Germany."

Views of Colorado And Nebraska Are Opposite On Code

In Nebraska a democratic governor is pledged to the repeal of the code and is opposed by a republican legislature. In Colorado a democratic governor is fighting to install the code system, and is opposed by the republican legislature.

Governor W. E. Sweet, while in Lincoln, conferred with Mr. Bryan and also spent some time in gathering data from the McKelvie administration to support his stand. County Attorney Charles M. Matson, a republican office holder, late Friday night called on Jeff Broady, the governor's secretary, to aid him in securing 200 copies of Mr. Bryan's two messages to the legislature attacking the code system, to be rushed to Denver, at the request of g. o. p. members of the Colorado senate. Charles Pool, democratic secretary of state, has also furnished facts and figures to the Colorado republican solons.

The strange alliances and political mixup is causing much amusement at the capital.

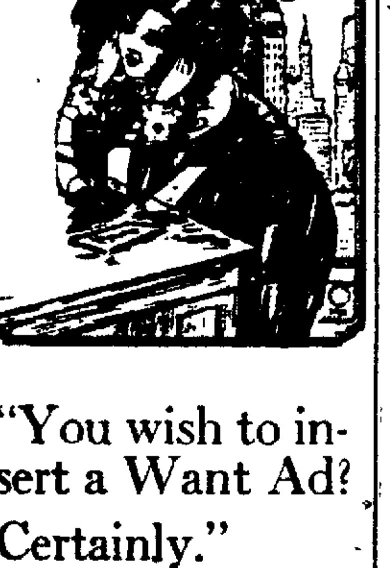

Hearing On Phone Charges By Omaha Hotels Next Week

The railway commission will hold three hearings in Lincoln next week as follows:

Tuesday, on investigation by the commission of rates on common bricks within the state.

Friday, concerning the 10 cent charges for local telephone messages from Omaha hotels.

Saturday, on informal complaint of Giltner citizens against the Burlington involving change in Aurora-Kearney freight schedule. Grand Island and Hastings jobbers interested.

The Want Ad pages close at 12:30 noon daily. For Sunday's paper phone your ad any time before 10:00 p. m. Saturday. Better phone early and avoid the rush.

HOW TO GET RESULTS.

THREE INSERTIONS of an ad are much better and cheaper than one, and SEVEN INSERTIONS are even cheaper and nearly always insure certain results.

NOTICE—See if your ad in this issue is correct and has been properly classified. NOTIFY the Want Ad department tomorrow morning if your ad is wrong. Otherwise you should not expect The Star to carry ad free of charge on account of error.

TELEPHONE YOUR WANT ADS WHEN IT IS MOST CONVENIENT. Our messenger will call the following day, and as this is an accommodation service, prompt payment is expected on presentation of the bill.

ADVERTISERS may have their replies addressed care of THE STAR. In place of name and address, a number will be supplied. All answers for out-of-town advertisers will be forwarded.

A SOLICITOR will gladly call to explain contract rates.

ALL ADVERTISING is given 24-hour complete service and carried through six separate editions.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

Aquarius people who are undeveloped and uneducated, are sometimes braggarts, and very tiresome in calling attention to aristocracy and pedigree. They think that they and their friends are the only people on earth, and that they are most entitled to attention and deference.
These people are restless and subject to anxiety on the smallest pretext. These people should develop their rare gifts, but they are inclined to laziness and indifference, and through this may lose the wonderful gifts which are their birthright.
The governing sign of this date is a sapphire, and the astral colors are rose and blue.
Women will find splendid positions as managers and heads of departments and organizations if they will use The Star Want Ads.

Discuss Changes In Pension Law

At a meeting of the East Lincoln Civic league Friday night in the old Elliott school, plans were discussed by which the Lincoln city council could take into its own hands the pensioning of firemen, and so improve the present law that a great saving in city finances would result.

It was suggested that the law be amended sa that a fireman could not amended so that a fireman could not making him incapable of efficient service. Under the present law a fireman who enters the service at the age of twenty may retire on a pension when he is still capable of service.

No definite action was taken by the league and plans were made for a big mass meeting in the near future in some down town hall where the whole matter can be taken up in detail. Don L. Love stated that such an improvement would mean a great saving in city expenditures.

R. W. Oliver, Omaha fire captain congratulated the Lincoln department for giving its higher positions to its own firemen who had spent years in the service.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometer has fallen decidedly in the Lake region and northeastern districts accompanied by cloudy weather and light snow. The extensive area of high pressure still covers the southern states, the Mississippi valley, the western states with the highest barometer in eastern Montana but the barometer has fallen considerably in the northern states. Light rain has fallen in Texas and Washington but generally clear weather has prevailed in the southern and western states.

Western Magnate On Way to Feel Lincoln's Baseball Pulse

MAGNATE COMING ON BASEBALL DEAL

Western League Owner to Head Out of Kansas City On Way to Lincoln.

Holland Declares Faith In Lincoln's Ability to Make Good In Class A.

(Special to The Star.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 17.—In case the Western league succeeds in putting over the proposed deal for the transfer of the Sioux City club to Lincoln, much of the credit will belong to Jack Holland, owner of the Oklahoma City club and winter resident of Kansas City.

League President Tearney of Chicago has been flirting with Lincoln since early last fall, but making no headway worth mentioning. Holland got into the game only a few days ago, following his appointment as chairman of a special league committee authorized to handle the Sioux City problem and announced here today that he entertained strong hopes success would crown his efforts.

The Oklahoma City magnate announced here this morning that he would head for the Nebraska capital city tonight for a conference with Lincoln men and thus prepare himself to report on the Lincoln baseball situation when he attends the Western league schedule meeting in Chicago, dated for next Monday. Holland is an enthusiastic booster for Lincoln.

"I have favored Lincoln for membership in our league ever since it dropped out five years ago," Holland said here today. "I can remember when Lincoln was a great ball town, not merely one season, but every season. My St. Joseph team always played to good crowds in Lincoln and nobody can tell me that Lincoln wouldn't make good in case it returns to the league fold. I am going to Lincoln tonight to ascertain what is going on there in a baseball way and hope to accomplish something definite, reporting Monday to the league meeting in Chicago."

CUBS PULL AWAY TO PACIFIC COAST

Chicago Nationals First of Major Leaguers to Depart For Training Camp.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Fires began flickering out in the Hot Stove league today with the departure of the Chicago Nationals for their spring training camp—the first of the major league clubs in the west to start preparation for the 1923 pennant race. The Cubs will establish camp on Catalina island, sixty miles off Los Angeles.

The Chicago White Sox have arranged to leave for their spring camp at Sequin Tex., a week from Monday, while the St. Louis Browns will get away from Mobile, Ala., on the same day. The Cardinals of St. Louis will entrain for their camp at Bredingtown, Fla., February 24.

Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, has ordered his players to report at Lakeland, Fla., on March 1. Some of the Indians are already in training at Hot Springs, Ark., preliminary to invading Florida for the real practice season.

Ty Cobb plans to have his Detroit crew in camp at Macon, Ga., by March 1 while the Cincinnati players, under the direction of Pat Moran, will assemble March 3 for the dash to Orlando, Fla.

The party of Cubs leaving for California today includes thirteen pitchers, four catchers and four infielders. The others are under orders to report two weeks later.

KANSAS ATHLETES EASY FOR HUSKERS

Jayhawk Matmen Defeated In Every Match of Dual Meet.

The University of Nebraska wrestling squad covered itself with glory Friday night when the Cornhusker grapplers shut out the University of Kansas team, 29 to 0. Nebraska won four matches by falls and three by decisions. Each of the decision-bouts went to Nebraska by a wide margin.

The Huskers were the aggressors in every match. Captain Troutman, Reed, Kellogg and Pickwell were the grapplers to pin their opponents' shoulders to the mat. Inman, Probst and Renner won decisions.

Probst opened the card by winning a decision from Captain Stauffer of Kansas in the 115-pound class. Probst had a time advantage of 5 minutes 47 seconds. He tried for a body scissors when the match was half over, but allowed the Kansan to slip out.

Kellogg won the first fall when he pinned Archer to the mat after 9 minutes 24 seconds of fast wrestling. He used an armlock and body hold after he had worn Archer down by his fast work.

Robert Inman of the Nebraska squad was the victor in one of the spectacular matches of the evening's program. He won a decision from Hume, one of the strong men of the Kansas squad. Inman went behind early in the match and tried for a body scissors. All went well until ten minutes was up when Hume wriggled out and clamped the same hold an Inman. The Nebraska wrestler rose to his feet and fell backwards, forcing the Jayhawker to break his hold. Inman got behind and remained there the rest of the match. He had a time advantage of 8 minute 59 seconds.

Pickwell of Nebraska took the second fall when he dumped Perreault of Kansas in 8 minutes 3 seconds with an arm lock and body hold. Pickwell was the aggressor all the way, the Kansas wrestler merely trying to stave off a fall.

Reed, ex-captain of the Nebraska team, made short work of his opponent, Rediel. Reed rushed the Kansas athlete and dumped him to the mat pinning him with a head scissors and arm lock in 2 minutes 5 seconds.

Captain Troutman of Nebraska also won in short order. Troutman flopped his burly opponent with a wristlock and body chancery in 3 minutes 12 seconds.

Renner, Nebraska heavyweight, won the final match of the evening from Haley of Kansas. He won by decision, with a time advantage of 9 minutes 32 seconds. Renner went behind with a body scissors after two minutes of wrestling. After ten minutes had elapsed he had his opponent's shoulders almost to the mat, but lacked the needed pressure to secure a fall. The summary.

Summary of the Meet.

115-pounds—Probst, Nebraska, won from Captain Stauffer, Kansas, by decision, with 6 minutes 47 seconds advantage.

125-pounds — Kellogg, Nebraska, won from Archer, Kansas, by fall, armlock and body hold, in 9 minutes 24 seconds.

135-pound—Inman, Nebraska, won from Hume, Kansas, by decision, with 8 minutes 53 seconds advantage.

145-pounds— Pickwell, Nebraska, won from Perreault, Kansas, by fall, arm lock and body hold, in 8 minutes 3 seconds.

158-pounds—Reed, Nebraska, won from Reidel, Kansas, by fall with head scissors and arm lock, in 2 minutes 5 seconds.

175-pounds—Captain Troutman, Nebraska, won from Spong, Kansas, by fall, wrist lock and body chancery, 3 minutes 12 seconds.

Heavyweight— Renner, Nebraska, won from Haley, Kansas, by decision with 9 minutes 32 seconds time advantage.

AGGIES RING UP FIRST VICTORY

Kansas Farmers Break Into Win Column; Beat Huskers In Ragged Game.

The University of Nebraska dubbed away another basketball game Friday night, losing to the Kansas Aggies by a 17 to 14 score. It was the first cage victory of the Missouri Valley conference season for the Kansas Farmers.

The game was punctuated by distressingly ragged team play and floorwork on the part of both quintets. Nebraska was trailing, 12 to 7, at the close of the first half but threatened to knot the count until Usher was taken from the lineup.

Usher played the best game for Nebraska, scoring four field goals and two free throws for a total of ten points. Doolan and Webber featured the Aggie play.

Nebraska was ahead by a lone point when the first half was ten minutes old. Captain Foval then started locating the hoop and the Aggies spurted ahead. Cozier and Warren scored at the start of the start of the second period and Nebraska was within one point of the Aggie otal. The Farmers then spurted away and Nebraska had a chance until Foval's basket in the last half minute of play cinched the game for the Farmers. The score:

LINCOLN VICTOR IN EXTRA PERIOD

Red and Black Tossers Win From Newman's Tigers On Hastings Court.

(Special to The Star.)

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 17.—Lincoln high defeated Hastings high in basketball last night, 20 to 14. The game went an extra period, the score at the close of the second half being, 14-all.

The contest was a hard fought affair in which the honors were about even until Lincoln spurted to victory in the extra period. Lincoln led at half-time by a margin of 9 to 8. Marvel and Becker got busy during the second half and knotted the Lincoln count. McIntyre featured the Lincoln offensive with six baskets from the floor.

Hastings has a splendid chance to sew up the game just before the final whistle blew for the second half. Vermillion had an open chance beneath the ring but missed the hoop. In the extra period McIntyre scored two field goals and "Jug" Brown also tossed one basket.

The game was played before the largest crowd of the season. Lincoln plays at Geneva tonight. The score:

Paddock Returns To Cinder Sport

(Associated Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Charles W. Paddock, world's champion sprinter, was to be the principal attraction today at the Southern California amateur athletic union relay carnival at Occidental college.

Paddock was to make his first public appearance on the running paths since July 4, last, when he attempted to break world's records at Santa Barbara, Cal. He was entered in the open 100-yard dash and was to run on the University of Southern California eight-man mile relay team.

British Bid for Yankee Fighter

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Jack Bulgar manager of Micky Walker, worlds welterweight champion, announced today he is considering an offer of $37,500 from a London promoter for a Walker-Ted ("Kid") Lewis bout there on June 6.

TREMAINE KING OF BANTAM FIGHTERS

Hangs Defeat On New Jersey Boxer and Wins Plaudits Of Gotham Critic.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Carl Tremaine, bantam champion-to-be as sure as slow poison, scored a technical knockout over Irish Johnny Curtin in the sixth round at Madison Square Garden last night when the latter declined to continue an uneven battle and was counted out while standing on his feet, amorously embracing Patsy Haley, the referee.

Curtin had entered a claim of foul, a protest that was allowed neither by Haley nor the club physician, who examined Curtin immediately after he had gained his corner.

Curtin's Trickery Exposed.

There was no foul struck, although Curtin gave a semi-convincing imitation of a man hit below the belt. He had all the pantomimic testimony at his disposal, but forgot that the science of surgery did not contenance men who claimed to be hit in the groin with sufficient force to knock them down and yet popped up in the middle of the count.

Curtin was hit so hard in the pit of the stomach that he may have thought he was fouled, but the belief, if any, was only a passing one, for the closing moments of his pantomime seemed to lack spontaneity, if not actual sincerity.

Hurries From Ring.

In a comparitive few moments, he had hurried from the ring without further ado and there was no adverse demonstration, in spite of the fact that the house was strongly pro-Curtin.

As in all of his previous appearances here, Tremaine had everything. It had been whispered that the Cleveland entry had no liking for the heavy going. In the polite language of the fist, he was said to be inclined to "dog it" when pressed.

Stands Up Under Fire.

There was no sign of this alleged weakness last night. He was hit hard at least five times, Curtin clipping him on the jaw right and left in the fifth, his best round. The only visible effect upon Tremaine was to make him fight back viciously.

He carried the first two rounds by a wide margin, was held to an even break in the third, almost tore Curtin apart with terrific right hooks to the body in the fourth, and was shaded just a bit in the fifth. What there was of the final round before the alleged foul belonged to Tremaine easily. More than 14,000 fans witnessed the bout.

UNI. PLACE NOSES AHEAD OF WAHOO

Suburbanites Pull Surprise By Defeat of Saunders County Youths.

University Place high school handed the Wahoo quintet its first defeat of the season Friday night on suburban court. The young Methodists taking the long end of a 17 to 16 score.

Wahoo inaugurated the scoring and had the edge until the end of the first half, then a long basket by Warren made the count 6-all just as the period terminated.

In the second half Coach Kahn substituted "Pac" Ball, a University Place favorite of last year, and with this addition the suburbanites speeded up and took a lead of four points before the Saunders county lads could locate the basket. Captain Finley, with two baskets, brought the score to a tie at 11-11 with two baskets. A successful free threw decided the contest in favor of University Place.

Captain Warren did exceptional work for the Uni. Place five. He emerged with a total of 13 points to his credit. Hamilton and Captain Finley divided the honors on the Wahoo squad, each totaling 6 points.

University Place will meet the Norfolk five at Uni. Place tonight at 8 o'clock. The summary:

BRITISHERS DOUBT WILDE WILL FIGHT

London Not So Sure Champion Seriously Cares to Meet Filipino Demon.

(International News Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 17—Thick waves of skepticism are rolling up in the wake of the announcement that Jimmy Wilde, the worlds champion flyweight boxer, favoring accepting the offer of the National Sporting club for a bout with Pancho Villa, the American title holder.

British boxing fans are agreed that it would be a wonderful show, but they are far from convinced that it ever will come off. The skepticism probably will persist until some definite announcement as to the terms and date of the match are forthcoming.

The chief reason for the skepticism of the "Doubting Thomases" is the failure of followers of British boxing affairs to understand why Wilde should want to take on the clever young Filipino who holds the American title. Wilde is a wealthy man. He owns whole blocks of houses in his home—Cardiff, Wales—and derives a sweet income from the proceeds of a thriving bookmaker's business at Cardiff. It is difficult for fans here to believe that mere financial considerations would be strong enough to induce Wilde to emerge from his two-year retirement.

Believed Through.

There is also a general belief that Wilde is "all through" as a fighter and that he knows it. His bout with Pete Herman two years ago, in which the American scrapper gave "Wee Jimmy" a terrific lacing, is regarded as having marked the end of Wilde's fighting career. That fight took so much out of the little British marvel that it was generally believed he had lost his taste for the punishment continued appearance in the ring would entail.

Despite their doubts, however, British ring enthusiasts are much interested in the prospective match. Wilde always has been a tremendous favorite in London and throughout the entire country. His marvelous boxing skill and his willingness to take his chances with many men who outweighed him by all the way from ten to fifty pounds earned him the respect of fight-loving Britons.

Speculation as to Wilde's motives for fighting Villa—if he does fight him—eliminates the financial aspects of the match and considers that Jimmy has convinced himself that he is good enough to give the shifty young Filipino a battle. Wilde is very proud of his title, and it is not believed that he would risk it lightly.

Want to See Villa.

The British are keenly anxous to see Villa in action on this side of the water. His reputation as a great little fighting machine has preceded him to these shores, and if he comes over he will receive a tumultuous reception. If he should capture the title from the sturdy little Welshman he will earn the earnest plaudits of London fans, even though they will deeply regret to see their present idol, Wilde, dethroned.

The present dope is that Wilde has agreed to fight Villa in London some time next May. The statement issued by the National Sporting club declares that Wilde has agreed to terms and that negotiations with Villa are now in progress.

The date is so far away, however, and the announcement so denuded of informative details that the boxing publis here has declined to accept the match as anything more than a tentative proposition which it would take keen delight in seeing transformed into a reality.

Transfer Charges Big Shipping Item

(Special to The Star)

WYMORE, Neb., Feb. 17.—J. E. Thlehoff, former Burlington superintendent's chief clerk at Wymore, in moving his household furniture to Lincoln, where he was recently appointed assistant trainmaster of the Lincoln division of the road, discovered a peculiar situation in transportation. He is a son of General Manager W. F. Thlehoff, of Chicago.

Althought he could ship his furniture absolutely free on the railway employing him, he hired and paid for a Wymore auto truck to transport the goods and saved money. It was found that if shipped on the railway a terminal transfer charge here, added to a heavy charge in Lincoln for delivering the shipment would amount to more than the truckers's charge from the home at Wymore to the home at Lincoln. The trucker brought back a load of groceries from Lincoln for wholesale Wymore merchants.
